New Protest Lodged In Tunnel Closing

Industrial Group Claims Transit Times Doubled

It takes twice as long for a rail shipment to go from San Rafael to the Midwest since closing of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad's Puerto Suello tunnel, the Marin Industrial Development Foundation charged today in protesting the railroad's application for permanent closing of the line.

The development foundation mailed a formal protest today to the Interstate Commerce Commission against Northwestern Pacific's petition to abandon two and one-half miles of trackage between Fifth Avenue in San Rafael and Ignacio, including the tunnel which caved in during a fire on July 20.

The protest was voted by the board of directors, who informed the foundation's membership by letter that one reason for the action was:

TRANSIT TIME

"While it is true rail freight users located south of the destroyed tunnel still are being served via the Tiburon ferry, transit times compared with those prior to the fire are considerably longer. For instance, a recent transit time of 17 days to Kansas City, as against a seven or eight-day normal transit, has been reported to us."

The directors also cited that industries and businesses affected by the shutdown are seeking new locations, and "there is no guarantee that their new locations will be in Marin."

Also, they declared, "granting of the abandonment application would seriously impair efforts to improve Marin's freight rate structure." This would damage Marin's desirability as future location for industries, said the letter, signed by Carroll A. Snyker, executive vice president.

315 MEMBERS

The letter of protest to the ICC declared the development foundation represents 315 members whose business would be affected by abandonment of the line.

"Abandonment will not only impose an unreasonable burden upon interstate commerce, but will cause irreparable damage to the members of the protestant organization and deprive the entire southern end of Marin County from reasonable access by railroad," said the protest, signed by Daniel C. Davis, foundation president.

No date has yet been announced for a hearing on the railroad's petition to the ICC.

EX-UAR NO. 2 MAN ARRESTED IN SYRIA

Damascus Reports All Is Calm, Border Areas Appear To Have Unrest

By UP INTERNATIONAL

The revoiutionary government in Damascus today announced the arrest of former Syrian strongman Col. Abdel Hamid El Serraj on charges of trying to subvert" the uprising that broke up the United Arab Republic last week.

But even as the regime of Premier Mamoun Al-Kuzbari moved to consolidate its power, there were indications it was running into trouble.

UAR President Gamal Abdel Nasser said in a speech in Cairo that fighting has been going on in Syria since last Thursday and that there was a popular movement underway there to save the union with Egypt.

This could not be confirmed from inside Syria, where the Damascus radio reported that all was calm four days after the army revolted and ended the 3½-year-old UAR.

UPI correspondent George Halaby entered Syria from Jordan Saturday and reported that there was "no bloodshed in the city of Damascus."

But today UPI correspondent David Dugas reported that pro-Nasser demonstrations by groups of Syrian taxi drivers were taking place along side the Syrian-Lebanese border.

Dugas said the drivers reported more pro-Nasser demonstrations were going on elsewhere in Syria.

In announcing Serraj's arrest, the Al-Kuzbari government said he was tracked down and seized last night.

Serraj, formerly chief of Syrian military intelligence, had been a vice president of the UAR under Nasser. But he resigned that post last Tuesday and returned to Damascus from Cairo. He was reported dissatisfied with his figurehead position in the UAR regime.

One Man Is Missing In $5,000 Burglary

Two burglars broke into the Goodyear Service Store on San Rafael's Fourth Street in broad daylight yesterday and loaded $5,000 worth of tires into a rented van—but van, driver and tires were captured less than half an hour later, thanks to two sharp-eyed 13-year-old girls.

At the wheel of the truck when Police Officer Lee Sellers stopped it in Mill Valley was William Eddy Kelly, 27, of Oakland. There was no sign of a second man. San Rafael police failed in long grilling of Kelly last night and today to get him to name his accomplice.

About 4 p.m., the two girls —whose names were withheld at their parents' request for fear of reprisals by the missing burglary partner — saw two men inside the Goodyear Service Store at 1531 Fourth Street, loading tires into a large orange van. The girls, puzzled, watched through the window.

The men, apparently unnerved at being watched, climbed into the truck and drove out—so hastily that they failed to raise the overhead door sufficiently. The truck ripped the door halfway off its hinges as it roared into the street.

The noisy getaway alerted several passersby who called police. But it was the girls' description, given to their parents and police when they reached home, that led to the capture. It was flashed over the police and sheriff's all-points radio.

Less than a half hour later, Officer Sellers, parked near Tamalpais High School, saw the van heading south on Almonte Boulevard. He pursued and forced it to the side of the road.

Supreme Court Working Hour Is Changed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court convened today for a new term and adopted the first change of its working hours in 63 years.

With a load of 1,050 cases on the calendar, the court this session will begin handing down decisions on Monday at 10 a.m. (EDT) instead of noon.

This new starting time will bring the justices into formal session at the earliest hour since 1807.

Today's opening session began at noon and lasted but 13 minutes. As customary on the first day, there was no business transacted except the admission of 38 attorneys to practice before the high tribunal.

The last major change in the court's session hours occurred in 1898 when the justices decided to take a half hour for lunch. Since then, the tribunal has sat from noon to 4:30 p.m. (EDT) with the lunch break at 2 p.m.

4 Die In Detroit Plant Explosion

DETROIT (UPI)—Four persons were killed and at least six injured today in an explosion and fire that rocked a plastics company near downtown Detroit.

Receiving hospital reported three of the persons killed were women, all apparently employees of the Sparkling Plastics Industries Inc. The fourth body was being dug from the rubble of the fire and was believed to be that of a man.

In addition, the hospital reported one man was in "extremely critical" condition.

The blast occurred about 8:15 a.m., and triggered a two-alarm fire in the one-story plastics firm building.

Gary Davis Expelled

CALAIS, France (UPI) — "World citizen" Gary Davis was expelled from France today as an undesirable and placed aboard a ferry for Dover, England.

SYRIA LOOKS TOWARD U.N. MEMBERSHIP

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The new Syrian government took today what U.N. officials regarded as a first step toward application for membership in the United Nations.

A U.N. spokesman said Premier Mamoun Kuzbari, head of the new Syrian regime, addressed a communication to Mongi Slim, of Tunisia, president of the U.N. Assembly, saying his government intends to adhere to the principles of the U.N. Charter.

The spokesman said this could be regarded as a preliminary to application for U.N. membership.

U.S. Rejects New Soviet U.N. Proposal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The United States today rejected a Soviet proposal to name a stop-gap U.N. secretary-general.

It declared the plan would "seriously undermine the integrity of the U.N. secretariat." (See story, page 2.)

The Soviet Union disclosed last night a proposal calling for a temporary head of the secretariat to act in close consultation with three deputies.

The Russians explained it would not be bound by a veto.

But U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, in a statement today, declared the Soviet proposal "is not a real compromise."

"It does not give the interim secretary-general a mandate to carry out the full functions of the office," said Stevenson.

Eastern Families Arrive In Chico

CHICO (AP)—Mayor Ross Lawler and other officials of this Northern California city today welcomed 12 families from New York and New Jersey who were driving here in a motorcade with plans of establishing homes in Chico.

The reason for their exodus from the East, the families said, was to seek haven from the threat of nuclear attack.

11 Injured In 3 Rear-End Auto Wrecks

Eleven persons were hurt in three-rear-end automobile collisions,two in the Novato area, on Highway 101 over the weekend. All were southbound.

Four suffered cuts and bruises when a sedan overtook and rammed a truck in the slow right lane at 8:45 p.m. Saturday just north of the Atherton Avenue intersection.

Mrs. Mary Semas Pinheiro was driving the truck headed home to 7533 Redwood Highway, Novato, after feeding cows on the family ranch north of town. She told the California Highway Patrol she was driving slowly after emerging from the ranch gate when she saw headlights coming up fast behind.

Kenneth Morris Overton, 17-year-old Sacramento high school student, was driving two Santa Rosa girls to San Francisco for a wedding reception when his car slammed into the truck.

Overton's head was gashed and he and his passengers Susan Peek, 17, and Marianne Schlegel, 18, were treated at Novato Hospital while Mrs. Pinheiro said she would see her own doctor.

An Alcatraz prison official's southbound sedan halted between Waldo Tunnel and the Sausalito lateral at 6:35 p.m. yesterday, balked by by heavy traffic backing up from the Golden Gate Bridge, was struck by a car driven by a San Francisco janitor.

Kazimierz Wasowicz, driving the rear car, was treated for a scalp cut at Park Emergency Hospital in San Francisco. Arthur McConnell Dollison, 1263 Denlyn Street, Ignacio, driving the lead car, reported himself unhurt but his wife Evelyn and daughter Jorene suffered bruises for which they said they would see their own doctor.

The third accident was just north of the Black Point cutoff intersection with Highway 101 south of Novato at 10:10 p.m. yesterday.

A station wagon driven by Doris F. Isakson of San Francisco and a sedan driven by Carolyn June Brattin of Petaluma had halted just after the signal light turned red. A pick-up truck driven by Roy K. Mathers of Redwood Valley, Mendocino County, rammed the Brattin car and knocked it into the Isakson vehicle.

Mathers, who suffered an eye cut, could recall nothing and California Highway Patrol of-

Nixon Back Campaigning In California

SUN VALLEY, Ida. (AP)—Richard M. Nixon is back in California today to start putting together what he envisions as the most intensive political campaign in state history.

He said he is out to win the governorship with the full intention of serving out the four-year term.

Nixon, who flew here to address the Western Republican Conference Saturday night, was asked repeatedly by newsmen whether he would seek the presidency again in 1964 and whether he would accept a draft.

The former vice president replied he would not be a candidate for president in 1964, adding "it's implicit that I intend to serve the people of California as governor from 1962 to 1966."

As to whether he could be drafted, he said "the answer is no."

Nixon challenged former Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight to back up charges that he was offered a political deal to stay out of the gubernatorial race. He denied knowledge of any such offer. (See story on Knight's friend, page 2.)

Prospects Dim In Coast Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Prospects remained dim today for early settlement of the West Coast shipping strike that has tied up at least 15 ships nere and 10 more in other ports.

"We're ready for a long strike if necessary," said Capt. Robert Durkin, president of the Masters, Mates and Pilots Union.

J. Paul St. Sure, head of the Pacific Maritime Assn., said the shipowners have nothing to discuss with the union.

Auto Conference Makes Headway

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers resumed negotiations today amid reports both sides have made compromises to head off a strike of 120,000 Ford production workers at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

An official news blackout covered the negotiations, but usually reliable sources reported that both Ford and the UAW had given a little on noneconomic issues.

These involve such things as production standards, worker's seniority, and employees' desire for a say in new plant locations.

Knight Friend Says He Heard Phone Offer

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Paul Mason, close friend and political associate of former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, says he overheard a telephone conversation in which a backer of Richard M. Nixon offered Knight his choice of a state job if he would bow out of the race for the 1962 GOP gubernatorial nomination.

Knight had declared Thursday that a Nixon representative had made the offer. His charge brought an angry denial from the former vice president who said "no person representing me or authorized by me has made such a promise."

Mason said last night Knight's account of the conversation was true, and promised to appear with the former governor at a press conference in Los Angeles this week to answer questions.

Mason, now a Sacramento attorney, said he was visiting Knight in a Sacramento hotel room Sept. 7 when the phone rang. Another man was in the room at the time.

Knight motioned Mason and the other man to come over to the telephone and listen in on the receiver Knight was using, according to Mason. There was no extension in the room, he said.

Mason, motor vehicle director in the Knight administration, said he heard the caller offer the ex-governor "any job in the state, chief justice or anything you want, if you won't run against Dick" in the primary.

Mason said he did not recognize the voice on the phone but said Knight told him the man's name and described him as one of Nixon's closest friends.

Mason said he wouldn't tell the man's name but would leave that to Knight. He also wouldn't name the other witness.

In Los Angeles, Knight confirmed Mason overheard the conversation. He said he would name the caller as soon as he could arrange a news conference.

"I want all my witnesses present when I name the man who called," Knight said. "There were four or five people in my room at the El Dorado Hotel in Sacramento that morning. Now it's a matter of contacting them and seeing when they're available.

He said he hoped to call the conference in the next two days.

Soviets Want Temporary U.N. Chief

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The Soviet Union has announced a plan to name a temporary chief of the U.N. secretariat unhampered by a veto. But the candidate would have to meet with Soviet approval.

The proposal, previously reported by informed diplomats, was spelled out last night in a statement from the Soviet delegation.

THREE DEPUTIES

The General Assembly would choose a man to head the U.N. secretariat until April 1963, but he would have to work in cooperation with three deputies. None would have a veto. The assembly would make its selection on the recommendation of the Security Council.

The Soviets have a veto in the Security Council and could reject any candidate they disliked.

The Soviet statement said U.S. press reports had distorted the Soviet position and charged that the object was to mislead public opinion and whitewash the position of those seeking to subordinate the U.N. staff to one country or group of countries and to "destroy its truly international nature."

SECOND TERM

April 1963 would have marked the end of the second five-year term of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, who died in a plane crash Sept. 18 in Northern Rhodesia.

For the past year, the Soviet Union had sought to replace Hammarskjold with a troika—three men, Communist, Western and neutral, each holding a veto. His permanent replacement under the U.N. charter would require action first by the Security Council and then by the General Assembly.

To avoid an immediate showdown over the troika, Ireland, Norway and others, with U.S. support, have been promoting a plan to have the assembly alone name one man on a temparary basis.

Aunt Sis Is 112

WAYNESVILLE, N.C. (AP)—Matilda (Aunt Sis) Rogers embarked on the 112th year of her life today. Her sage attribution to longevity: "Hard work and treating people like they should be treated."

Aunt Sis, believed to be the oldest resident of North Carolina, was born Oct. 1, 1850.

What did she mean by hard work?

"You raise 13 children and be up all hours of the day and night, and you'll know what I mean."

More than 125 friends and relatives filled the nursing home where Aunt Sis lives yesterday to celebrate with a chocolate cake and fried chicken.

Transport Services 'Socialization' Asked

NEW YORK (UPI)—Transport Workers Union president Michael J. Quill called today for full federal ownership of all air and ground transportation facilities.

Quill's "socialization" proposal included all transportation from local bus service to railroads and airlines as well as the nation's utilities. He said "we must look to the socialization of these industries."

He called also for elimination of the profit motive from public service industries.

Quill's 186-page report, text of which was released last night, was to be read today to 750 delegates at the opening of the 11th constitution convention of the TWU, which represents 150,000 workers in transportation and allied fields.

In the report and at a news conference, Quill also:

Called on the AFL-CIO to take back James Hoffa and his Teamsters Union because "they weren't able to convict him (Hoffa). Local, state and federal law enforcement agencies have made Hoffa an honest man."

Labeled the merged AFL-CIO a "failure," saying that "inter-union raiding is at an all-time high. Locals of the merged movement still practice discrimination, relegating their own members to second class citizenship. Racketeering is still in evidence.

Urged formation of a third political party—a national labor party—because "the American people cannot depend on the present two party system which plays footsie under the table with the lives, fortunes and destinies of all of us."

Laid down a wage-and-hour formula to answer automation, calling for a four-day, 32-hour week for subway, bus, railroad, utility and university employees in the union at no reduction in pay.

Navy Recruiter Drops The Anchor

By RANDALL GOULD

Robert L. Trigon, senior chief gunner's mate who for the past two years has been in charge of the Navy recruiting office in San Rafael, has retired to his home in Novato after 21 years' naval service.

"I pretty much started out in Marin County," he said, "and Marin is where I want to stay. What am I going to do? I don't know, but it had better be something pretty soon, because otherwise my wife will be taking me off to her home town of New Orleans."

Anything can happen, Trigon found out one peaceful Sunday morning a few years ago.

"After breakfast," he recalls, "a couple of guys and I were sitting out on the fantail of our destroyer, watching for arrival of a Clipper seaplane . . . and all of a sudden all the Japanese planes in the world were there."

Of course that was Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941, which started a lot of action for Trigon.

Santa Rosa-born, Trigon came to San Rafael to live when he was in the fifth grade and remained here through graduation from San Rafael High School in 1940. He tried to sign up for the Navy right away but there was a waiting list at the time.

His enlistment was in San Francisco Feb. 3, 1941. At that time there was no Navy office in San Rafael, such as the one now located at 1116 Fourth Street, where Trigon has made his headquarters lately.

Most of Trigon's service was aboard destroyers, like the Tangier, which on Pearl Harbor Day won a commendation for everybody aboard the ship, on the theory that it shot down four attacking planes.

"I wouldn't bet we hit anything," confesses Trigon, who spent his time manning a machinegun. "Those Japanese planes were all over. Everything was being blown up. It was highly confusing. We never did see that Clipper."

Things moved fast for Trigon from then on. His ship rushed west and "tried to save Wake," then it went to Midway and dropped off some Marines, after which the stops were New Caledonia, New Hebrides and Guadalcanal.

"We saw quite a bit of action," comments Trigon with restraint.

Next he returned to this country, went to school in Washington, D. C., where he learned more about the electro-hydraulics of gun mounts.

and went out on another ship put in commission from Boston—the Harry F. Bauer, which reached the Pacific area in time to get in on the successive invasions of Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

Having weathered a lot of close calls, Trigon now figured in a freak torpedo-hit which entered one side of his vessel near the bow and emerged through the other side, fortunately without exploding.

This took the ship down to the Philippines for repairs and Trigon ended the war at Leyte Gulf.

He returned again to go to the east coast and in Charleston, S. C., he married the former Joyce Serpas of New Orleans. She now presides over his home at 2041 Leese Lane, Novato, with their two daughters, Cheryl, 12, and Susan, 5.

Trigon had shore duty for two years during which he returned to California and was at Treasure Island from 1952. Next came duty on the carrier Shangri La. After two more years he went to the destroyer escort Hanna, then the destroyer Stoddard.

Two years ago he came to San Rafael to take charge of recruiting and wind up his Navy career where it started.

His mother, Mrs May Trigon, lives at 105 C Street, San Rafael. A sister, Mrs Marston J. (Marie) Hecht, is also in San Rafael, and a brother, Frederick T. Trigon, lives in Fairfax.

State's New Cabinet Open For Business

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown's newly reorganized administration opened its doors for business today with a policy-making cabinet and eight "super agency" chiefs.

Brown unveiled the cabinet and its agency heads, four of them authorized by statute, Saturday as part of a governmental reorganization program adopted by the 1961 legislature. Purpose of the plan was to coordinate the activities of some 350 departments, boards and commissions.

The selection of three of the four statutory "super agency" chiefs came as no surprise. But there was one newcomer to state government—Samuel Leask Jr., 67, who will head the health and welfare agency. Leask is former city administrative officer of Los Angeles.

The other three $25,000-a-year administrators are:

Richard A. McGee, 64, former director of corrections, now chief of the youth and adult corrections agency.

Robert B. Bradford, 52, former director of public works, now administrator of the highway transportation agency.

William E. Warne, 56, natural resources agency administrator, who will continue as director of water resources.

The four non-statutory cabinet members, who will also keep their current jobs and receive no extra pay, are:

Hale Champion, 39, finance director and now revenue and management administrator.

Preston Silbaugh, 43, savings and loan commissioner who becomes administrator of business and commerce.

John F. Henning, 45, director of industrial relations and now employment relations administrator.

Bradford Crittenden, 49, state highway patrol commissioner, who also becomes public safety administrator.

During the 30-year period from 1910 to 1940, the population center of the United States moved westward slowly. The six centers were all in Indiana, four of them crowded together.

UNRUH FAVORS WALDIE FOR FLOOR LEADER

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Speaker Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles), the Assembly's new presiding officer, today singled out a youthful Northern California legislator as a likely choice for the job of Democratic floor leader in the lower house.

Unruh, overwhelmingly elected speaker Saturday, called Assemblyman Jerome Waldie (D-Antioch) "an outstanding candidate for the job."

"He has been a good chairman of the Democratic caucus," Unruh said.

ON THE LONE PRAIRIE—OUTER MONGOLIA STYLE

Although there are modern vehicles in Outer Mongolia, much of the transportation still is like this—two-wheeled carts pulled by camels. Horses are used, too. This area, recently visited and photographed by a Westerner, has collective farms and sheep ranches. In other areas Soviet-made autos provide a marked contrast to herdsmen's tents and shacks. Outer Mongolia, about three times the size of France, is bordered by the Soviet Union and Red China. (AP Wirephoto)

Posse Ends Fellon's Bid For Freedom

A posse ended two days of freedom for an escaped San Quentin Prison convict early today.

Galon Warren Van Sandt, 39, who was reported missing from a minimum security area outside the prison walls on Saturday evening, was apprehended before dawn as he approached the home of a fellow prisoner's relatives in the hills west of Redwood City.

Van Sandt, serving time for car theft in Stanislaus County, was traced to the home of Alvin Thompson, 2201 Edgewood Road, Redwood City, after San Quentin officials found an envelope with the name and address in his cell.

Thompson's son Alvin Jr., is due to be released from prison next Sunday on parole.

Van Sandt was missed at the Saturday 10:30 p.m. rollcall in the construction dormitory on the prison farm.

Since the area is outside the prison walls, officials said he could have escaped either by climbing the 10-foot wire fence or by wading out into the bay and swimming around the fence.

He had arrived at San Quentin from Stanislaus County last December on a six months to five years term for car theft.

Prison officials, said he had been in California one day when the theft occurred, having arrived in Modesto from Portland, Ore., looking for farm work. He had served a term for auto theft in his native Arkansas.

Larkspur Council, Planners To Meet

The Larkspur City Council and Planning Commission will hold a special meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the city hall to discuss the planners' denial of a lot split variance on West Baltimore Avenue.

The special meeting will be the first test of the two groups' decision to hold special joint meetings on all appeals to the council on variance denials by the planning commission.

The lot split request, by Jane Forster, Fairfax realty broker, asks to split the property at 352 West Baltimore Avenue into two 50-foot wide lots. The city's zoning ordinance calls for minimum 60-foot width.

A public hearing on the lot split appeal will be held during the regular meeting of the council at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Tanker Sinks

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A skeleton crew of four men tried for six hours to save a tanker from sinking at sea, but finally gave up and abandoned the ship before dawn today.

The four joined the 33 other crewmen who had abandoned the 10,564-ton tanker, Hess Mariner shortly after an engine room explosion punched a hole in the bottom.

All went by lifeboat to another tanker which arrived soon after the Hess Mariner sent an SOS last night.

One crewman was injured in the blast.

The cause of the explosion was not known.

Council Will Discuss School As City Hall

The two acre E Street School property at Fourth and E Streets will be discussed as a possible city hall site by the San Rafael City Council tonight at 8 o'clock in the city hall.

Decision to sell the property was announced last week by the San Rafael Board of Education.

The site came up in council discussions last year as a possible location for a new San Rafael City Hall.

Bids for resurfacing portions of 27 San Rafael streets will be opened. The council will hear a joint report on proposed state freeway recommendations by the Department of Public Works and Daniel E. Coleman, consulting engineer.

Final maps of two subdivisions—White Oaks Unit 11 and Dominican Heights Unit 11—will be considered. Approval of both maps have been recommended by the Department of Public Works.

Two public hearings will come before the council. One is an appeal by Top Properties of a planning commission refusal to grant architectural approval of remodeling plans for property at 1615 Fifth Avenue. The second public hearing will concern an annexation in East San Rafael.

Year Is Given In Morals Case

Franklin Delano Davis, 27-year-old Larkspur mechanic, today was sentenced to a year in Marin County Jail for contributing to the delinquency of a 15-year-old Petaluma girl last June 4.

Davis had pleaded guilty to the charge, which was reduced from rape after a polygraph test cast doubt on the girl's original story that force had been used.

Superior Court Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. reinstated Davis' five-year probation for stabbing Donald Travis in 1960 after a bar-room brawl. He said Davis might be considered for the work furlough program after six months. But he denied probation on the new conviction and allowed Davis no credit for time served. He had spent 60 days in jail for the stabbing.

Only the driver was in the cab.

"Open the back!" ordered Sellers.

"Open it yourself!" retorted the driver, Kelly.

"You open it!" demanded Sellers firmly.

Grudingly, Kelly alighted and opened the rear doors of the van. It was nearly three-quarters filled with new tires.

At the county jail, Kelly was identified by the two girls as one of the men they saw inside the store. What happened to the second man remained a mystery.

Investigation disclosed the burglars had broken a window in the store to climb in and open the overhead garage door from the inside. The truck they used had been rented from Hertz Drive-Ur-Self.

Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa said Kelly has served a year at Alameda County's Santa Rita Prison Farm for burglary, and is believed also to have a juvenile arrest record.

Review Board Does Not Assure Transit On Bridge

Golden Gate Bridge directors have finally voted on whether they will participate in appointing an engineering review board to study conflicting reports as to whether the bridge can safely carry rapid transit.

They voted 8 to 5 to participate.

But they haven't yet decided how they will participate.

This decision has been turned over to the bridge's Rapid Transit Committee. It will hold a hearing and make a recommendation to the full bridge board on how such a review board should be appointed and whether the bridge district should participate in paying part or all of the cost of the review.

The fact that the bridge directors agreed to do anything at all about the review board is certainly a victory for rapid transit supporters. But to start planning on trains on the bridge as a result of that vote would be foolhardy.

In order to approve putting rapid transit on the span, eight votes are necessary. The eight who approved the review board Friday can not all be relied upon to vote for transit, even if the review board is unanimous in saying it is safe to put it on the bridge.

In fact one of the eight, Marin Director Leland Murphy, has frankly said he won't vote against engineer Clifford E. Paine's negative report regardless of what other engineers say. Murphy explained that he had switched his position and voted for the review board "because (Supervisor Chairman) Bill Fusselman asked me to."

Others among the majority Friday have said they will need "dramatic proof" that Paine is wrong in saying it isn't safe to put trains on the bridge.

In short, the chances are still indeed dim that the bridge board will rescind its earlier action and allow rapid transit to reach Marin County across the bridge.

What has been done, however, will shed much light on the conflict between Paine and engineer Carl H. Gronquist, who has told the rapid transit district the bridge with rails would be safe.

We urge the bridge's rapid transit committee to meet at the earliest possible time to consider ways and means of naming the review board. And then we urge the full bridge board to act expeditiously on the committee's recommendations so that unnecessary delays will not harass the rapid transit district's time-table for putting their plans before the public.

VISIT THAT SICK FRIEND

"No one knows how few real friends he has until he gets sick" is the frequent comment of those who are confined to the often dreary solitude of a sickbed.

Spending a little time with the sick often means a bit of inconvenience, to be sure. But you can do much good for others as well as yourself by such a holy effort.

These few tips may help you:

1. Be a good listener. Let sick people tell you their troubles, no matter how tedious it may be for you. Find out their interests and talk about them.

2. Read to those who are ill if they wish it.

3. The mere act of sitting quietly beside a sick person can mean a great deal.

4. Take some little token to them—flowers, a bit of food or a magazine.

See Christ in the sick person and you will sanctify your efforts. Remember He said:

"I was sick and you visited Me."
(Matthew 25:36)

Have mercy, O divine Master, on those who are afflicted with illness.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Americans Consume Some 50 Tons Of Food During An Average Life

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail!

How much food does the average American consume in his lifetime? About 100,000 pounds—or 50 tons.

Memo to JFK: President George Washington's first federal budget was written on a single sheet of paper.

We sometimes feel the price of everything is constantly going up, but there are some exceptions. Example: The first bicycle built in this country weighed 70 pounds and cost $313.

Geography lesson: Everyone knows Paris is the world's largest French-speaking city, but can you name the second largest? It is Montreal, Canada.

Color peps up the human appetite, and it also influences the appetites of some insects, too. Researchers have found that horse flies preferred to white cattle, while ordinary stable flies, given a choice of menu, settle on black cattle.

The nation's biggest single user of pencils is the New York Stock Exchange. It buys more than a million yearly.

Burden in the bottle: Absenteeism as a result of alcoholism costs U.S. industry a billion dollars annually. The average alcoholic misses 23 work days a year.

Our quotable notables: "You never know what you can do without until you try." —Franklin Pierce Adams.

Authors don't always know what they are talking about. Jean-Jacques Rousseau, French philosopher, achieved fame with "Empile," a guide on the proper education of children. Yet when each of his own five children arrived, he promptly sent it to a foundling home.

Old remedies: U.S. frontiersmen once treated earache by sprinkling drops of genuine skunk oil into the sore ear. The real problem: First you had to catch the skunk.

Executive signs: On the desk of Irwin H. Kramer, hotel president here: "To make dreams come rtue, stay wide awake!"

HISTORY LESSON: Alf Landon carried only two states in 1936, but the most badly defeated major party presidential candidate in U.S. history was John Quincy Adams. In 1820 he got only one electoral vote, losing to James Monroe 231-to-1.

Small consolations in a worrisome world: Man seems to hate himself more than he does his brother. Despite the widespread increase in violent crimes, statistics show twice as many people commit suicide as are murdered.

HELP FOR housewives: The U.S. Department of Agriculture is developing a new means of dehydrating vegetables so they can be made ready for the table after simmering in hot water for only five minutes. We already have instant coffee; instant meals are on the way.

It was Finley Peter Dunne who observed, "The past always looks better than it was; it's only pleasant because it isn't here."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Recall Election Not Un-American

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Thomas Jefferson, founder of our nation, said that if he had to choose between government without newspapers and newspapers without government, he would choose the latter, as the free dissemination of information was the surest safeguard of liberty.

This strong opinion in favor of the press carries with it a strongly implied moral responsibility. The press must provide real information or it fails in its purpose.

It is my feeling that your lead article on Sept. 26 about the Blair recall contains some quotations which cry out to be examined editorially. Mrs. McDougall, Mr. Ludy and Mr. Jones are quoted as making inaccurate statements about the intent and purpose of the recall method.

Let me state that the people are still sovereign in this nation and there is absolutely nothing "un-American" about a recall election. It is the embodiment of one of our most cherished principles.

The Declaration of Independence states unequivocally that "governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

If any official is charged with a crime or malfeasance of office, he is subject to investigation and prosecution by the grand jury and the district attorney. The recall is the resort of the sovereign people when the "consent of the governed" is withdrawn.

Raymond Moley, in his book "How to Keep Our Liberty," says: "Because law is essentially the expression of what individuals deem best for their guidance, it has been and is a jealous guard against encroachment by those in political authority."

The State of California Elections Code, which may be presumed to be part of that "expression," provides in Section 11051: "The holder of any elective office of any county or any district, who has held his office at least six months, may be recalled at any time by the voters." . . .

With reference to the recall process, may I quote from "The California Citizen," Don H. Roney, 1955, Elsevier Press, Inc.: "To protect ourselves against a public official who turns out to be incompetent or dishonest after he is elected, we have provided for a method of recalling him—that is, of canceling his election, and removing him from office."

And from "California Government," Crouch and McHenry, 1949, University of California Press: "The recall of elective officials is the most widely adopted type (of recall) and represents the recall as it is generally understood. It has been regarded as an instrument to defeat bossism and to make the officeholder feel that he owes an accounting to his constituents at all times, not merely at fixed intervals."

And from "County Government in California," 3rd ed., 1958, published by County Supervisors Association of California: "Elected officials may usually be removed by recall."

With reference to general responsibility in office, may I quote from "Excellence," John W. Gardner, 1961, Harper and Bros.: "In our society it is expected that power and responsibility will go hand in hand. We cannot imagine any kind of leadership—no matter how talented — which would suit our society if it lacked this attribute. We require that those who have achieved influence in our society conduct themselves with a commitment to the values which we hold in common and a sense of their obligation to the community. We do—all too often—tolerate irresponsibility in high places, but in the long run those who wield power irresponsibly are apt to be called to account."

I might note that all these references are in the free public library, and Mr. Jones might be able to speak with more accuracy if he were to make use of this facility instead of the long distance telephone. In fact, his own office holds the key to the county law library which contains some enlightening volumes of annotated elections codes. I recommend it to him.

There's Danger In Khrushchev Misjudging His Acts Short Of War

WASHINGTON—Ever since Vienna in June, the President has been greatly concerned with a central question. How can he convince Nikita Khrushchev that rather than surrender the freedom of West Berlin, the United States would go to war, and if necessary to nuclear war?

He has said this again and again. His brother has said it. It has been said for him.

Yet now, nearly four months later, after the military build-up and all that, there is still great doubt in Washington whether the American will to fight a nuclear war has been realized in the Kremlin.

Why? The simple-minded answer, which many believe, is that Khrushchev, having met the President, having studied the big words about Laos and the fiasco in Cuba, has concluded that the Kennedy administration is spineless and can be intimidated into surrendering.

THIS READING of Khrushchev's mind is, I feel sure, quite false. But it is engendering a poisonous delusion that American courage is impugned. As the delusion spreads, it is doing profound damage to our own nerves, to our capacity to work our way through this enormous international crisis with clear heads and steady hearts.

There is some danger of a fatal misunderstanding on Khrushchev's part. But it does not lie in anything so simple and absurd as the notion that the Russians believe the Americans are cowards. Does anyone suppose that Khrushchev supposes that if he attacked West Berlin as the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor, this country would surrender? Not for a moment.

THE DANGER lies in the possibility that he might misjudge what he could do short of anything so obvious as the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor or, let us say, Hitler's invasion of Poland.

A twilight zone exists because the Allied position has not yet been developed fully and defined precisely in a really serious and exhaustive diplomatic conference. In view of the illusions and miseducation of the past 10 years about the German situation, I do not believe that the Allied position can now be developed and defined in public speeches. If there is to be a conference, the chief negotiator for the West must have enough freedom so that he is not immobilized in a straitjacket.

Gromyko's speech on Tuesday, which followed the President's on Monday, brought into the open, although not in precise language, the immediate issue over West Berlin.

In essence, Gromyko said that the Soviet Union would guarantee self-determination in West Berlin and access to it on condition that the rights of access are negotiated first with the East German government.

THIS WOULD obviously be intolerable if Gromyko means that Secretary Rusk is supposed to go to East Berlin and work out traffic arrangements with Herr Ulbricht. But it would not be intolerable if Gromyko meant only that, let us say, during the coming conference of the Big Four, there should be a meeting of Western, West German, and East German transportation specialists to draft an agreement which all the powers could then guarantee.

The task of creating a new status and a new function for West Berlin is one not for the pygmies, but for the giants.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

San Rafael city offices went on a five-day week as result of action by the city council—except for the fire,

20 YEARS AGO

All chiefs of police in Marin County cities were assigned specific duties in a coordinated civil defense plan.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A high-powered insurance agent talked an aging and overworked book publisher (look who's talking!) into taking out a big new policy. The publisher submitted to a physical examination, then waited in vain for word from the agent. Finally, the agent wrote to explain the delay.

"You may have noticed," he said, "that our company doctor makes out a chart and punches a hole in it whenever he finds something that isn't just right with the applicant. Well, the doctor took your chart home with him and tried it out on his old player piano. The tune it played was (I'm sorry to note) a dirge."

A sensitive G.I., back from an 18-month-stretch in foreign clime, reports, "I'll never forget the day our transport landed back in San Francisco. I hadn't seen an American girl for 10 weeks. I rushed to my girl's house to dine with her and her family. I could hardly wait to get her alone in the ping pong room. She beat me, too—21 to 14."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

She Recited Poetry For FDR And Recalls Trips To Baptize At Mission

"You can tell the place," a mechanic at Dougan's Garage in Bolinas said, "by the whale bone at the gate."

He was right. Beside the steps was a long, curved bone. Over the gate on a chunk of driftwood was the name "Locke."

Florence Locke said the bone is a whale's rib. It and other whale bones, vertebrae, were found on the Bolinas Beach. "The vertebrae make fine steps in the garden," Miss Locke said.

"They are petrified. Thousands of years ago Monterey and Bolinas had whales. The bones are from the whales. Bolinas means whale in Spanish."

SHE SAID SHE has known Bolinas all her life, but had spent some 20 years in England.

"When younger," she said, "I studied for the stage on the condition I would never go on. My father insisted because he didn't like the publicity." She did appear in the second mountain play, "Shakuntala."

Miss Locke sat with her wire haired terrier, Cal Aggie, on her lap, a grand lady. She told of her training in France from Yvette Guilbert who used to say, "But, if you can imagine the scene, I cannot see why you cannot do it."

SHE WAS NOT allowed to be an actress, but she has appeared in the U. S. and in England many times in what she called "one woman theater." That is, she has recited poetry and plays, appearing before royalty as well as the late President Roosevelt in the White House.

She has done Ellen Terry Shakespeare lectures, works by Shaw and Benet's "John Brown's Body."

Literary director for the Browning Society in San Francisco, she recites there regularly. "Next week," Miss Locke said, "I am doing the poem 'The Bomb That Fell On America' by Hermann Hagedorn. It is one hour, 20 minutes long and I do it by heart."

Hagedorn, Miss Locke continued, said there is only one thing stronger than the atom. It is the human soul. It can control the atom, but we must use our brains.

The diseuse spoke of the days in Bolinas when people took the Old Fairfax Road to San Rafael to baptize babies at the mission. Those were the days when it was nothing, she said, to lose a wheel off the car while driving over the mountain.

Of Bolinas, she said "it has a sort of permanent peace about it. And I don't think they will allow that to be disturbed."

CORRECTION: We mentioned recently that the radio antenna on Wolf Back Ridge is KQED's. It is not. It's KDFC-FM's. Apologies.

FIRE IS FASCINATING and frightening. We had a very uneasy feeling last Tuesday on Throckmorton Ridge that the fire could easily leap a road and burn a large chunk of the mountain. We were lucky there was no wind, said Fire Chief Charles Reilley.

In the fire's light we saw people moving their cars "in case"; people in pajama tops and jean bottoms; people, just awake, with terror in their eyes; people bearing hoes, rakes, shovels and picks to fight fires.

We saw the fire burn a picket fence and brush to the dirt side road, saw electric wires overhead smoking. You could smell them.

We heard the crackling of the flames in the redwoods, the same crackling which awoke people across Cascade Canyon.

Leaving the fire, we met 82-year-old Leonore Leopold sitting on the bumper of Bert Dugas' car, cane in hand, watching the dying fire. She said she had been awakened by a friend who called "fire," then half-carried her to a car to bring her away from its reaches. Mrs. Leopold, a widow, seemed to enjoy not the fire, but the occasion.

It was bright by the moon. John Donhoff, who lives in trees in Homestead Valley, stood on the ridge highway and looked at the stars. "And look at that," he said, "old Orion, not changed a bit."

Marin Quartet Concert Was Enjoyable

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

About 50 chamber music lovers gave evidence of thoroughly enjoying yesterday afternoon's seventh annual concert given at the Mill Valley Public Library by the Marin Quartet and guest flutist Bette Kuhlmann.

While this many seem like a small audience, it was the kind of intimate group that is well suited to this kind of music, and nearly all available seats were filled.

The quartet, composed of director-violinist Mabel Pittenger, violinist Michael Gerling, violist Esther Furnas and cellist Jean Maguire, gave a performance that varied from generally workmanlike competence to superlative music.

High points of the program were Mozart's lovely quartet for flute and strings and the very interesting "Dances of Panama"—the latter the premier performance in the Bay Area of these folk dances based by contemporary American composer William Grant Still on Negro and Spanish-Indian themes.

Hearing a string quartet play music of such unusual inspiration and successfully suggest the quality of the original instruments used for these tunes was a fresh and delightful experience.

Much of the pleasure in listening to the Mozart quartet was due to Bette Kuhlmann's expert playing of the flute, which was characterized by technical dexterity, clean phrasing and a fine breath control that permitted long and evenly sustained tones.

The oddly named "4 Minutes and 20 Seconds" by the American contemporary composer Roy Harris was notable chiefly for a vigorous cello passage.

More uneven in quality of performance was the opening string Quartet in A Minor by Schubert, in which there were some difficulties with intonation at first.

This quartet of Marin musicians, which is well worth hearing, will give its next recital on Nov. 6 in Sausalito with place to be announced later.

MAMA LEARNS TO FINGER-PAINT

The Council of Marin County Cooperative Nursery Schools held its annual workshop Saturday in Terra Linda High School cafeteria. Howard A. Slatoff, associate professor of art at Alameda State College, conducted the workshop, which included having the nursery school mothers perform the same sort of drawing, modeling, cutting and pasting, etc., their youngsters do in the nursery schools. Shown trying finger-painting are (from left) Mrs. Arthur W. Hallin of Corte Madera, Slatoff, Mrs. James F. Langton of Mill Valley, and Mrs. Robert M. Johnson of San Rafael. Woman Complains Of Photo Fraud

Mrs. Lavon Lutich of Lucas Valley has complained that she paid almost $60 to a house-to-house photographer last month for pictures of her child, but the photographs never arrived.

She said the money was paid to an elderly woman who solicited the order, a photographer who took the pictures, and another man who showed proofs. They claimed to represent Jack and Jill Studios of Stockton, said Mrs. Lutich.

Real Estate People Will Gather; McPhail's Has New Features

The state convention of the California Real Estate Assn. in progress this week through Thursday at the Biltmore Hotel in Los Angeles has at least five members from the Marin County Real Estate Board in attendance.

Among those who took off for the affair this weekend were Bud Eckert, president of the local board; Ed Ward, vice president; Mrs. Blanche Redmond, treasurer; Dan Deedy, executive manager, and Frank Perachiotti, past president.

The women's didvision of the Marin Board sent down a check for $100 to go to the Glenn D. Willaman real estate educational fund. The money was raised last June at a fashion show and is the largest annual donation the group has made so far.

NEW DISPLAY ROOMS at McPhail's, 917 C Street, San Rafael, are now featuring the latest of everything in hi-fi, stereo and TV. A service and installation department is something not previously maintained. It's under the charge of a new man here—Earl Mitchell, formerly a field engineer with Philco for seven years.

THE BREWING INDUSTRY in California produced taxes amounting to more than 53 million dollars for the treasuries of federal, state and local governments during the first half of 1961, according to George Ososke, of Kent Woodlands, executive secretary of the California Brewers Assn.

There are more than 1,000 indirect taxes on a single barrel of beer, Ososke noted. They account for approxximately 45 per cent of its production cost.

"The brewer, along with the grocer, the trucker and the baker do not pay such taxes," he said. "Only the people—the buying public— pays them in the form of higher prices for beer and other commodities."

INTERIOR DECORATOR Helen R. Friedman of Lucas Valley is newly elected secretary of the National Society of Interior Designers. She was among those hosting at the first western regional conference last week at the Jack Tar Hotel in San Francisco.

DANCE BUSINESS. Nancy Dunham Studios have opened up in Carpenters Hall, 647 Lindaro Street, San Rafael. Classes are featured morning, afternoon and evenings every Friday in ballet, tap, modern jazz, rhythm, cotillion, ballroom and charm for youngsters and adults.

Miss Dunham has other studios in North Hollywood, Lancaster and Palmdale but has recently moved to the Bay Area. Her specialty has been coaching professionals — children and adults—and she will give instruction here personally.

Mrs. Robert Blue, 130 Marina Blvd., San Rafael, is acting as business manager.

MARIN SURANCE MEN. Eight Marin County life insurance underwriters have received 1961 "national quality awards" through outstanding records of accomplishment this year, according to Marin Life Underwriters.

Those honored were David St. John, Edmund Williams, Douglas R. Tangen, Edward K. Wachsman and Russell Troup —all of San Rafael; John C. Stickney, San Anselmo; Buel M. Snyder, Marinwood, and John Hourihan of Fairfax.

A NEW SMELL, exclusive with Gary Rifkind at the Fourth and C Streets Pharmacy, San Rafael, is the Rolley perfumes for men. Only a man can buy it, says Gary, and if your nose detects it on a woman—that's because a man gave it to her. Some gals turned down at the counter, he claims, have button-holed strange males on the street to go in buy it for them.

Case Against Watchman With Gun May Be Dropped

The case of the Peacock Gap night watchman, who stopped what he considered a speeding car and then waved a revolver at the car occupants, may be dismissed in court if he behaves until Nov. 20.

Jay Joseph Taylor, 24, who was watchman at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club at McNear's Point, stopped a car driven by Arnold Jaret Ridgway of 354 San Francisco Boulevard, San Anselmo, on the night of Sept. 9. Taylor warned the driver he was speeding. Ridgway took some of his passengers home, then came back to see who Taylor was, because he was not wearing a uniform.

Ridgway said Taylor then waved a revolver at him. Sheriff's deputies found Taylor with a .44 revolver and a loaded 12-gauge shotgun in his car.

Deputy Dist. Atty. P. Roy Vallarino said that the guns were confiscated from Taylor, and he has lost his job at Peacock Gap. The charges of wielding a revolver and having a loaded shotgun in his car have been continued until Nov. 20.

If Taylor behaves, Vallarino said he plans to ask for dismissal of the case on Nov. 20.

Attack Charge To Be Dropped

A rape charge against Santa Venetia butcher Keith V. Buchignani, 32, will be dropped because the victim's health does not permit her to go through with a jury trial, Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety has announced.

A 22-year-old Santa Venetia housewife, who accompanied Buchignani to buy a pack of cigarettes, complained that she was attacked near Littleman Market off San Pedro Road on Sept. 1.

The district attorney disclosed today that the woman had requested not to proceed with the trial because of her health.

"We have agreed to accept her request and will not file an information in superior court," said Garety. The district attorney said the defendant has agreed, however, to undergo medical treatment.

Dazzling New 49er Attack Drives Lions Daffy—49-0

DETROIT (UPI) — Coach Red Hickey of the San Francisco 49ers called on three triggermen for his shotgun offense yesterday and they blasted their trademark into the Detroit Lions—49 to 0.

Hickey called every play from the bench for the first time in his career. Alternating quarterbacks John Brodie, Bill Kilmer and Bob Waters carried them out to perfection.

The 49er offense not only riddled the Detroit defense, considered the best in the National Football League, but the San Francisco defense blanked the Lions for the first time since 1952.

It was the first time in football history that quarterbacks were used to bring plays onto the field from the coaches' corner with such regularity. Paul Brown, coach of the Cleveland Browns, has shuffled guards back and forth with plays for several years, but no one ever used the quarterback—or quarterbacks—before.

But the offensive team didn't get all the glory. The San Francisco defense snagged four Detroit passes, recovered one key fumble and held the Lions to just 55 yards rushing.

Abe Woodson added an additional thrill when he took the kickoff at the opening of the second half and romped 98 yards for a touchdown.

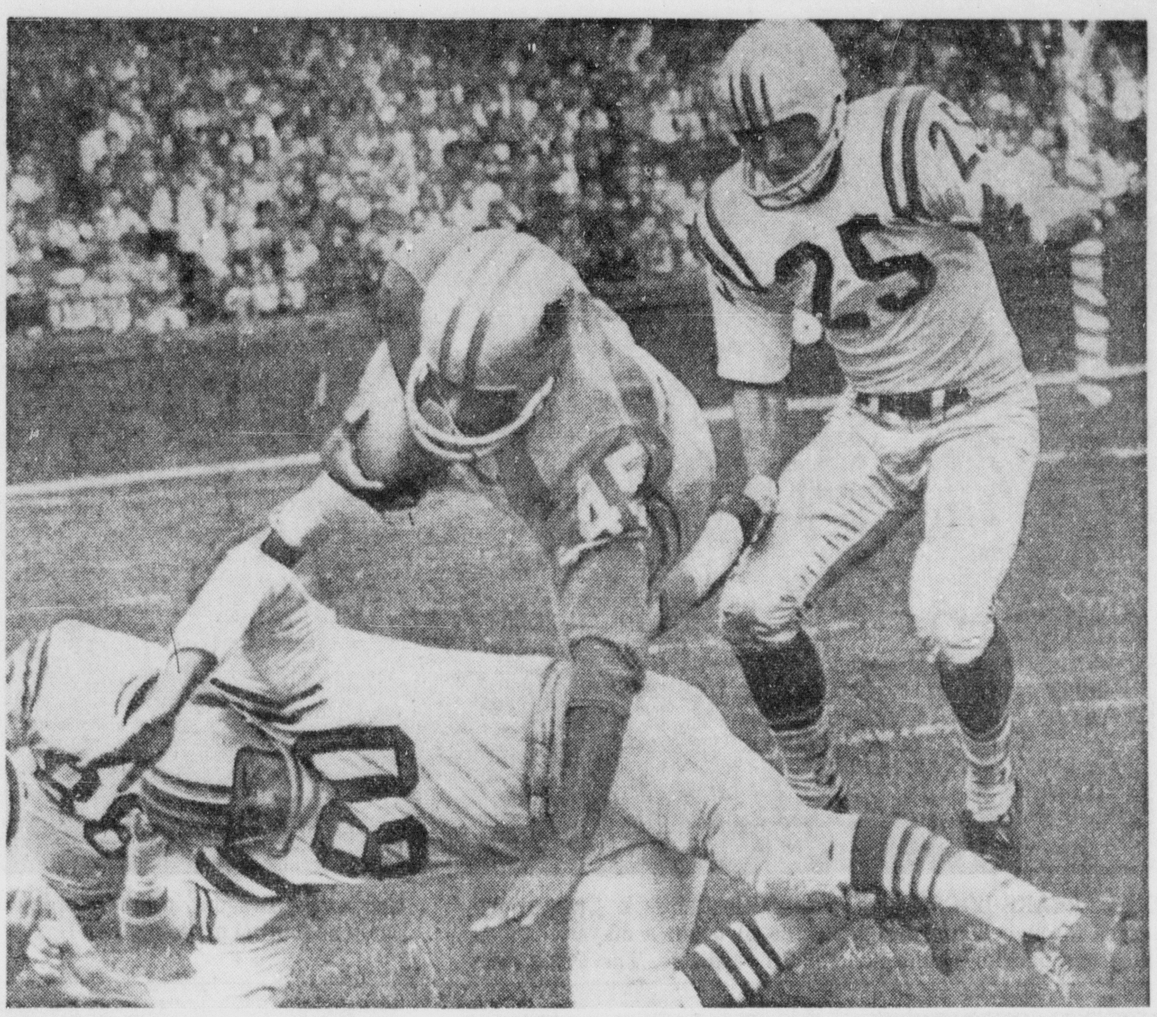
Hickey said his three quarterbacks were "ideal" for triggering the shotgun attack which he employed for the first time last season with moderate success.

"Brodie is a good passer but only a fair runner," Hickey said. "Kilmer (last year's college total offense leader from UCLA) can do both well and Waters (from Presbyterian College) is a good runner. What we had in mind was to keep the Detroit defense spread out and it accomplished our objective."

Detroit's ace linebacker Joe Schmidt said the Lions were "not accustomed to playing against that type of offense."

"We couldn't contain their quarterbacks," Schmidt said, "especially on roll-outs and pitch outs in the first half. The Chicago Bears used it against us a few years ago but it was primarily a passing gimmick. The 49ers' attack resulted in a complete breakdown of our defense as it couldn't get a line on the thinking of any one quarterback."

Brodie completed five out of 12 passes for 130 yards and Kilmer hit on three of seven passes for 43 yards and rushed for 103 more. Waters threw only one pass which went incomplete but picked up 38 yards rushing.



SHORT TRIP — Dan Lewis (45), Detroit Lions offensive halfback, picked up only three yards on this running play before being spilled by San Francisco 49er halfback Dave Baker. And typical of the Lions' troubles all afternoon in the game played at Detroit, Lewis fumbled as he fell. Officials, however, ruled that the whistle had blown before the fumble. San Francisco won 49-0. (AP Wirephoto)

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

Surprise, Shock Tell The Story Of 49ers' Triple-Barreled Show

CONNOLLY

Forty-Niner Coach Red Hickey fired a triple-barreled shotgun at Detroit yesterday, and the mighty Lions rolled over and played dead like a tame kitten.

With the win, the 49ers roared back into contention in the Western Conference of the National Football League and gave notice that the old grey mare ain't what she used to be. Even the 49 to 0 score has overtones of an auspicious nature. What could be more fitting than 49 for the 49ers?

Surprise and shock told the story again. After intercepting an Earl Morrall pass on the first play of the game, the 49ers fired the first blast with John Brodie at quarterback. In came Bill Kilmer to fire the second successful shot. When Muddy Waters appeared on the scene for the third volley, the Lions were so confused and upset they called an immediate time out.

RIGHT THERE the Lions made their biggest mistake of the afternoon. They should have walked off the field while they were still in one piece. Instead, they stuck around for one of the most merciless plasterings a Detroit team has been handed in many a year.

The terrible trio passed, ran and punted all afternoon, with Coach Hickey calling the shots from the sidelines, and the Lions were never in it. It was all "shotgun" with no "T" served.

Ahead by 21 to 0 at half time, the 49ers wiped out the memory of the day at Kezar in 1957 when the Lions overcame a 27 to 0 lead to beat the 49ers out of the division championship. It was Terra Linda's Abe Woodson who applied the clincher by galloping ninety-eight yards with the second half kick-off.

Woodson's romp will be appearing in 49er film highlights for years to come. It was a combination of near perfect blocking by his teammates and individual ability on his own part that broke Abe loose. He even dug back into his hurdling experience about twenty-five yards from home, sailing over the prostrate body of one of his own blockers and thereby gaining the necessary step on the Detroit defenders.

IF COACH Hickey learned some lessons from the Green Bay films of a week ago, he certainly put 'em to use. And his men proved apt pupils. The 49er line tore holes in, and ran around a Lion defensive line that has been allowing only an average of eleven points per game for the past year.

The fact that every man gave his best was a help, but you have to go back to the element of surprise for the lock up. Any NFL team can take the best shots of any offense if it comes in an orthodox manner. Pitch 'em a curve and they look like big Frank Howard of the Dodgers trying to meet one of Stu Miller's butterfly balls.

Things are looking up. The 49ers play Los Angeles next Sunday at Kezar, and follow with Minnesota, Chicago and Pittsburgh before they tangle with the Lions for the second time. The 49ers could go into that with a six won and one lost record. Could be.

Indians Take Lead In Warner Loop

The Mill Valley Indians moved into first place in the Northern Division, Northern California Pop Warner Football Conference, by steam rolling the San Anselmo Hornets 45-0 Sunday at Kentfield.

The win gave the Indians a 3-0 league record, a half game better than the defending champion Redwood Junior Giants who are 2-0 and who were idle yesterday. The two teams clash this Saturday night at 8 at Kentfield.

Fullback Tom Lecy scored three TDs for Mill Valley yesterday as the Indians led 26-0 at halftime.

In the other game played at Kentfield, Terra Linda edged Sebastopol 6-2, and at St. Vincent's, St. Vincent's upended San Rafael 19-7.

U.S. Clinches Davis Title

NEW DELHI (AP)—The United States advanced to the interzone finals of the Davis Cup tennis competition today when Whitney Reed of Oakland, Calif., defeated India's 19-year-old Jaidip Mukerjea 6-2, 6-3, 6-3.

The straight set victory gave Americans a 3-1 lead on the best-of-five matches and made the final match between Chuck McKinley of St. Louis and Ramanathan Krishnan a mere formality.

'New' Raiders Roll Over Denver, 33-19

OAKLAND (AP) — Having proved they can win in their American Football League, the Oakland Raiders go in for some restyling this week to get on the victory side more often.

It was just two weeks ago that Marty Feldman replaced Eddie Erdelatz as head coach. Oakland had fallen to Houston 55-0 and San Diego 44-0.

The Raiders bounced back to battle Dallas to the wire before losing 42-35 and then yesterday reached the win side of the ledger with a 33-19 margin over Denver.

Now this is the same Denver team the Raiders beat 49-12 in their final pre-season game, so you can't call Feldman a miracle man. Yet the Reiders proved before a crowd of 8,361 at Candlestick Park that they haven't given up.

With an open date this week, Feldman gets a chance to install some of his innovations, explaining, "There just wasn't time to do it before."

Oakland grabbed a 33-3 lead after three quarters Sunday and then allowed a pair of Denver touchdowns in the final minutes. The outcome left both clubs with 1-3 records and a date to meet again in Denver on Oct. 15.

The scoring surge for Oakland included a 54-yard field goal by ex-Washington Huskie star George Fleming, the longest ever in the American Football League.

49er Juggling Act Shakes Up Pro Football

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

An unprecedented juggling act and the efficiency of the unorthodox shotgun offense have established the San Francisco 49ers as legitimate pretenders to the Western Conference throne.

The 49ers emphasized their title claims by demolishing Detroit's vaunted defense in a 49-0 triumph yesterday that spilled the Lions from the undefeated class and created a four-way tie for the lead in the western division. It was the first time in 115 games the Lions were unable to score.

EAGLES BOW

Elsewhere, it was an equally bad day for unbeaten teams as the league champion Philadelphia Eagles were beaten by the St. Louis Cardinals 30-27 and the Dallas Cowboys were whipped by the Cleveland Browns 25-7.

In other games, Green Bay's defending western titlists defeated Chicago 24-0, Baltimore edged Minnesota 34-33, New York defeated Washington 24-21 and Los Angeles beat Pittsburgh 24-14.

Gerry Perry's 27-yard field goal with five seconds remaining gave the Cards (2-1) a come-from-behind victory over the Eagles (2-1).

The Browns (2-1) used a 7-yard touchdown bolt by Jimmy Brown, two field goals by Lou Groza and two scoring pitches from Milt Plum to Rich Kreitling to build up a commanding 25-0 lead.

STARR CONNECTS

Bart Starr passed 18 yeards to Boyd Dowler and 17 to Ron Kramer for touchdowns while Jim Tylor and Paul Hornung picked up valuable yardage on the ground for the Packers (2-1).

Steve Myhra booted a 52-yard field goal on the final play as the Colts (2-1) edged the Vikings (1-2). Lenny Moore scored four TDs for Baltimore, one on a 72-yard pass from Johnny Unitas.

Y. A. Tittle pulled the Giants (2-1) ahead with a touchdown with 11 minutes remaining, scoring on a one-yard plunge that spoiled Washington's debut in a new stadium.

Ollie Matson and quarterback Frank Ryan collaborated on a 96-yard pass play that sent the Rams (1-2) in front to stay against the Steelers (0-3).

Missouri Next Rugged Test For Poor Cal

BERKELEY (AP)—California's Bears continue one of collegiate football's roughest schedules this week facing the University of Missouri Tigers and a good possibility of loss No. 3.

Coach Dan Devine's Tigers already have opened the 1961 season with victories over Washington State and Minnesota while Cal lost to Texas and Iowa.

California could be strengthened by the return of quarterback Randy Gold who suffered a knee injury before the season started.

Iowa, the No. 1 rated club nationally, whipped the Bears 28-7 Saturday.

There might have been more Hawkeye scoring except for a pair of first-half fumble recoveries by the Bears.

Fullback George Pierovich led the way to California's touchdown by running a kickoff back 44 yards to the Iowa 39. Twelve plays later, Larry Balliett lateraled to Rudy Carvapal who fumbled but put a hand on the ball before it went out of bounds behind the goal for the score.

Hamilton AFB Edges Out Army 9-3 In 4th Period

The Hamilton Air Force Base Defenders barely pushed over Fort Lewis Saturday afternoon in the final quarter of play, 9-3.

Defender halfback Jim Turner broke a 3-3 tie with a 38-yard TD run in the final period. Hamilton's field goal was booted by Eric Kuykendall in the third period and Fort Lewis' by John Savoia in the second quarter.

Roof Falls In On Four Powerhouses; Iowa, Mississippi 11s Escape Upsets

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

It will be another month yet before Iowa and Mississippi realize their moment of truth in college football, unless—

Unless the roof falls in on them as it did to Ohio State, Rice, Penn State and UCLA, to name four, last weekend.

The two powerhouses, ranked 1-2 nationally in the Associated Press' poll, may make it unscathed until Nov. 4, when both face their toughest opponents of the year, Ohio State and Louisiana State, respectively.

The Hawkeyes, who made Coach Jerry Burns debut a success Saturday by beating California 28-7, play Southern California this weekend.

Mississippi, with two straight victories, and 17 games in an unbeaten string, takes on Florida State. Ole Miss had to work for a 20-7 victory over Kentucky Saturday night.

Between Southern Cal and Ohio State, Iowa faces Big Ten foes Indiana, Wisconsin and Purdue while Ole Miss must tackle Houston, Tulane and Vanderbilt before playing LSU.

Ohio State, though, had its thoughts of a perfect season jolted by upset-maker Texas Christian, which held the favored Buckeyes to a 7-7 tie. Last week, TCU upset Kansas 17-16, and now challenges Texas for Southwest Conference supremacy. Those two don't meet till late in November.

Rice, another of the so-called SWC elite, ran right into Georgia Tech's up-and-coming buzzsaw that mowed 'em down 24-0 while UCLA, the pride of the West Coast's Big Five, got ambushed by Michigan 28-6.

Coupled with Penn State's Friday night loss, the nation's top 10 teams are a rather bedraggled condition.

However, Saturday is another game and Ohio State gets a chance to catch the Uclans still down. Penn State takes on Boston University, a 31-7 loser to Army Saturday, on Friday night. Rice is idle.

Some of the big boys made out better. Alabama, which now contends with Ole Miss and Georgia Tech for Southeastern Conference honors, beat Tulane 9-0 and plays Vanderbilt this week. Fifth-ranked Syracuse scored 29-14 over West Virginia, which hasn't won a game in 18 starts, and will have a little more competition this week from Maryland.

Texas continued going strong, walloping Texas Tech 42-14 and meets Washington State on Saturday. Michigan State No. 10, atop the Big Ten after beating Wisconsin 20-0, will find out if Stanford is for real. The Indians, after an all-losing season in 1960, won their second Saturday, upending Oregon State 34-0.

Notre Dame convinced everyone it wasn't kidding with its 19-6 beating of Oklahoma

Sophs Spark Stanford To Upset Win

STANFORD (AP) — Michigan State's favored Spartans can't know just what to expect when they host the surprising Stanford Indians this week.

Underdogs in both outings so far, the Indians beat Tulane 9-7 and then humiliated Oregon State 34-0 after being outplayed in a scoreless first half.

Tony DeLellis, one of Curtice's 17 sophomores, scored the tie breaking touchdown climaxing a third quarter drive of 64 yards in eight plays. Sophomore quarterback Steve Thurlow tried to run for two points, but failed.

Senior quarterback Rod Seats threw a 23-yard scoring pass to Steve Pursell for the second touchdown.

Three sophomores scored fourth period touchdowns as Ken Babajian crashed over from the two, Thurlow went over on a four-yard keeper and Tyce Fitzmorris scooted 28 yards for the finale.

BOND BREAKS LOOSE — Novato High halfback Craig Bond charges through his own right tackle to begin a 56-yard run in the second quarter to the Sonoma 18 yard line. The Pirates destroyed the Dragons in the Saturday afternoon rout, 37-0. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax)

THIS IS REWARD ENOUGH

Novato High tackle John Cook takes a rest and a "drink" in the third period of the Sonoma game. Cook along with other first string Hornet linemen, got more rest than in Novato's previous games this season because by the half the score was 18-0, Drake, and 37-0 at the gun.

Novato '11' Crushes Sonoma By 37-0

By PAUL MILLER

The "insects" were purring like contented pussy cats today on the Novato High School campus.

Novato's Hornets Saturday afternoon stung the Sonoma Dragon 37-0.

The mythological reptile was mortally wounded and would be the first to agree that in the words of Novato coach Marlin Olsen the Hornets "mustered their offense."

Novato last Wednesday began working from a new tighter formation, and Saturday's result was 1.5 touchdowns per period. The shutout was from the labor of the Hornets' continued powerful forward wall and defensive effort. Olsen was to hear among postgame congratulatory remarks from the game's head official that the Hornets played a "clean and uncomplaining game," and from the Sonoma head coach: "We don't even belong on the same playing field with your team."

Novato began the onslaught in the middle of the first period from their own 45. From there in 10 plays and three first downs halfback Craig Bond in his first combat this season carried the leather around the left side for a TD. Tackle and place kicker John Cook missed PAT attempts after Bond's first TD, and two others. Fans could have cared less. Cook's performance both on defense and offense was outstanding all afternoon.

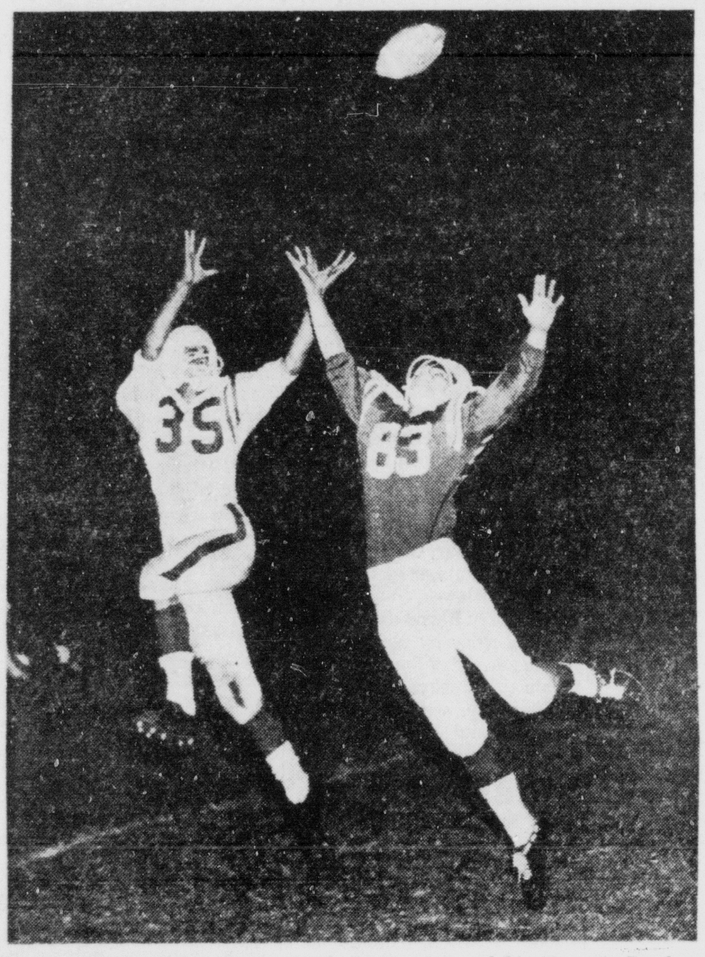
Novato approached the Sonoma goal line again early in the second period on a 56-yard marathon by Bond and four and five yard gains by John Miller, Don Scribner and Mike McCormack. Big Mike was given the honors from the Sonoma one and grunted in for the second score. The PAT attempt was futile. Sonoma had two series of offensive action, but on the latter was forced to punt under unbearable Hornet defensive pressure. The Dragon booter got off a nice one and Novato was downed on the Hornet 20. But on the second Hornet play Scribner faded back, took some time, spotted Clifford Pierce way down in the Sonoma territory, led him with a sailing 60-yarder. After an ideal catch Pierce chopped off 20 more measures for the six more Hornet notches. The PAT kick was no good.

At the outset of the third period Novato let the Dragons have the pigskin for four plays, including a punt. Then in an unmerciful drive of six, 11, 10, nine and seven yards, sat on the Sonoma nine. Scribner flipped a clean fast pass to Bond, and the 140-pound senior was in jackpot city again. This time, Cook, instead of kicking suggested second string quarterback Tom Murphy to run what could be described as a "foreign fire drill." The formation was for a kick attempt. The ball went to the holder, Murphy, who in turn faked a run to the left side, then turned and tossed an overhand lateral pass to Cook, who in turn got everybody dizzy by flipping it to end Mario Baccaglio in the end zone for the PAT.

Halfback John Miller of the Hornets racked up the game's fifth touchdown on a beautifully executed 13-yard gallop around right end. Miller was tough on plunges during the first half of the game but was more fun to watch as he carefully, but powerfully, followed his interference until he no longer needed them on end runs. His touchdown's PAT kick attempt by halfback Ron Green was under the bars.

Novato went for its sixth end zone crossing in the final period. The march actually began in the last second of the third period when Sonoma fumbled on their own 16 and Hornet Mike Milano recovered. Miller then moved the ball to the three in another of his lovely end runs. It took the Hornets four plays for the score which was made from the one inch mark by deserving Miller.

How did the Dragon do on offense? Never got past his own 41 yard line.



LAST DITCH TRY—End Laddie Richardson of Sir Francis Drake High makes futile grab for 50-yard Pirate pass in attempt to score in the final seconds of Saturday night's game at Kentfield with Oakland High. The pass was intercepted by Oakland safety Dennis Neal, icing Oakland's 7-0 victory. (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

FANCY COMMUNICATION—By way of two-way radio coach Bob Franceschini of Drake checks with spotter Gordon Chan, in the stands, regarding latter's viewpoint of gridiron action. The portable unit went out of order in the second period. Franceschini said Chan's immediate spotting was valuable.

Drake Beaten By Oakland Gridders In Final Minutes

If the Sir Francis Drake High offensive football unit was as skilled and peppery as the school's band, there might have been a victory rally at the Pirate campus today.

But the San Anselmo ball movers lacked these attributes Saturday night against Oakland High at Kentfield. The result was a scoreless Drake team being edged in the final two minutes of action by an Oakland TD pass. The final count: 7-0.

The East Bay speedsters got a taste of Drake's defensive bulkhead in the game's opening minutes: in four plays Oakland went all of five yards.

From mid first quarter the Drake defenders worked like the slaves of demoralized pirates, as they were compelled to do all evening to keep a status quo and get the leather back in the right hands.

It was in those mits in the second period most of the time. And at about the six minute mark, Drake had actually moved to the 8-yard line of Oakland. The choice spot should be credited to guard Bob Hermsmeyer's recovery of an Oakland fumble on the visitors' 19.

It took four plays for 12 yards, and from the eight fullback Tom Kolke, the only Drake offensive secondary man who showed any real consistent fight during the whole fray, sped his way around his own left end untouched into the Oakland end zone. Then hung his head in dejection as a careless offside infraction nullified the Pirates TD play.

The third period was dominated by Oakland.

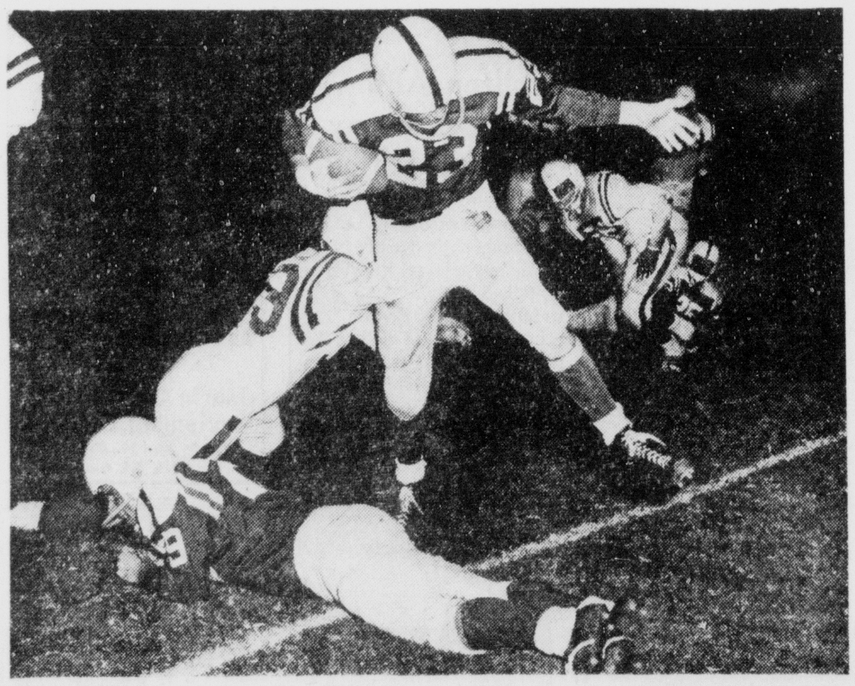
In the final quarter, Drake was cocked on the Oakland 26, with a second and one situation, but the Pirates lacked launching power and were bogged on that 26-yard pad for four plays. Later in the period they started to roll in Oakland territory after an eight-yard first down romp around the right side by Kolbe. But in two subsequent plays Drake fumbled twice in the middle of the line and suffered a penalty. Kolbe disgustedly ran another right ender for eight yards but it was not enough to make the deficit for a first.

The Drake offensive unit was handed the ball again by the defensive squad after six Oakland plays, but the Pirate secondary fumbled and evoked another penalty and ended up giving the ball back to the visitors, who went for the winning touchdown on a 16-yard pass from quarterback Jim Hughes to halfback Harold Lewis. Hughes fired another one to fullback Elyn Brunson for the PAT.

After the kickoff, Drake bungled around on its own 26 until Kolbe had to play the role of a wagon train scout and get the Pirate caravan going with a 16 yarder. But a Pirates "last stand" was squelched by Oakland's interception of Kolbe's second down pass from the enemy's 34.

Pirates on that game's honor roll should be Kolbe, Pete Helms for his pass defense; Jim Duff for penetration and low tackling; Ed Bowler, Dale Thompson, and Bob Hermsmeyer for pad-crackling, inside-tackling of Oakland missiles Lewis and Brunson; Kelly Scott for the gutty blocking of an Oakland key punt, and successive damaging tackles against Oakland, and Steve Purcell for penetration and a spirited first quarter statement "We can beat these guys."

Pirate Coach Bob Franceschini praised his defensive workers, but decided that his ball hawks lacked "that old consistent drive."



NICE GAIN — Drake fullback Tom Kolbe is hit by halfback Jerry Paul of Oakland after a nine and one-half yard gain in the closing seconds of the third quarter. On the ground after attempting block is Pirate halfback Jim Sannar. The play put Drake on the Oakland 36. The Pirates went 10 more yards in subsequent plays, but no farther.

Fleck Beats Rosburg In Sudden Death Golf

BAKERSFIELD (AP) — Someday Jack Fleck may win a golf tournament within the regulation distance. But so far he's needed a playoff to gain entry victory of his career.

Fleck ran his playoff record to 3-2 Sunday, out-stroking Bob Rosburg on the first sudden-death hole to capture the $25,000 Bakersfield Open.

Bresnan Earns Starting Nod

FRESNO—Mike Bresnan of Fairfax, a member of the 1961 Fresno State College junior varsity football squad, has taken over the first-string left halfback position. He is expected to be one of the Bullpups' top running backs this fall.

Before coming to FSC, Bresnan was an all-around athlete at Sir Francis Drake High School.

An 18-year-old freshman physical education major, Bresnan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bresnan, 44 Rock Ridge Road, Fairfax.

Marin 'Cats Beaten By Salinas Eleven

Harry Moore's scrappy Marin Catholic Wildcats battled a more experienced Palma High team tooth and nail through the first half of their game at Salinas Saturday night, only to have the Chieftains break the contest wide open with two touchdowns in the third quarter and go on to win 25-7.

And the man who hurt the 'Cats the most was four-year letterman Wayne Garvis, a 170-pound fullback who played his first two years of varsity football under Moore while he was the Palma coach before coming to Marin.

Garvis ran like a tank all night and his off tackle power plays shredded the Marin Catholic line.

Let it be noted that the work of the thoroughly seasoned and highly mobile Palma forward wall, which simply outplayed its Wildcat counterpart, made a major contribution to Garvis' successes.

Palma leaped into a 12-0 first quarter lead and seemed certain to go into its dressing room at halftime still holding that margin. Then with but four seconds of playing time remaining, the Wildcats pulled off some razzle-dazzle that wound up with Paul Kruger heaving a pass to Frank Ubhaus in the Palma end zone. The ball traveled 39 yards through the air and the gun ending the first half sounded while the pigskin was still en-route. The Wildcats added the extra point and trailed by but 12-7 midway in the game, still very much in the running.

What proved to be the turning point in the contest came in the third quarter when the Chieftains, on their own 20, fourth down and a yard to go for a first-and-ten, gambled on a running play and made it by inches. The Salinas team then marched down the field with the aid of one long pass play to score, and before the quarter was over another TD was added that iced the game.

Marin Catholic mounted two threats in addition to the touchdown pass. In the second quarter a fumble stalled a drive that had reached the Palma eight. And in the third period the Wildcats drove to the Chieftain 10 before being held on downs.

The Palma eleven's play left Wildcat coach Moore impressed. "Their line performed the way we had expected Analy to play the week before," he said of the Catholic Athletic Assn. Conference team which scored its third straight win of the season while the Marin Wildcats were suffering their second loss in as many starts.

On his own squad, Moore had special praise for quarterback John Jones both offensively and defensively—"I am more impressed by his ability with each game"—and for Kruger.

Tomales High Wins Opener

Tomales High School won its 1961 opener Saturday night, 12-6, against St. Vincent's at Petaluma on touchdowns by Bill Dilena and George Bianchi.

The Braves shot back from an early second quarter 6-0 deficit to send Dilena over from the one yard line for a TD late in the second period, and tailback Bianchi ran off tackle for 20 yards and the winning score in the third quarter. All the afernoon's PAT attemps failed.

The Braves stacked up 198 yards in total gains, 162 of which were via air. Tomales coach Milton Castleberry praised the Marin team's defensive efforts, saying "it was the best of any Brave team I have coached."

Maris' 61st Homer Stirs Controversy

COMBINED AP & UPI

Roger Maris claims "the ordeal is over," but actually the controversy merely started today over whether he or Babe Ruth should be recognized as baseball's official all-time home run king.

Emotionally exhausted, the 27-year-old Maris accepted congratulations in Yankee Stadium after becoming the first major leaguer ever to surpass Ruth by hitting 61 homers in a single season.

Commissioner Ford Frick has ruled that two separate records will go into the books.

One will be Maris' mark of 61 homers for a 162-game season and the other Ruth's record of 60 in 154 games. That won't stop baseball fans from arguing, however, which should be considered the one and only all-time record.

Maris hit No. 61 yesterday off Tracy Stallard, 24, a Boston relief pitcher from Herald, Va. It came in the fourth inning on a 2-0 pitch and was the only run of a 1-0 Yankee victory on the last day of the season.

"I appreciate the fact that Stallard was man enough to pitch to me," said Maris.

"I'm not going to lose any sleep over it," said Stallard. After all, he hit 60 home runs off some other guys."

The homer was caught in the lower right field stands by a Coney Island chauffer, Sal Durante, 19, who will get $5,000 from the owner of a Sacramento, Calif. restaurant.

TIE FOR NINTH

While the Yanks were tuning up for the World Series, opening Wednesday at the Stadium, there was a desperate battle at Kansas City with 10th place at stake.

As it turned out, nobody finished 10th. Kansas City beat Washington 3-2 and the two clubs wound up in a tie for ninth. Jerry Lumpe slammed a home run and a single and drove in all the runs.

Norm Cash won the unofficial batting title with two hits in three at bats for Detroit and a .361 average. Cash hit his 41st homer in the Tigers' 8-3 triumph over Minnesota.

Cleveland announced the firing of Manager Jimmy Dykes at Los Angeles and then defeated Los Angeles, 8-5, with Coach Mel Harder at the helm.

TWO FINISHED

Baltimore and Chicago finished their season Saturday.

Maris' home run captivated a crowd of 23,154 at Yankee Stadium. Maris' mates pushed him off the bench twice to take bows after completing his circuit of the bases. The blow also gave him the league RBI title with 142.

Bill Stafford, slated to face Bob Purkey at Cincinnati Saturday in the third series game, pitched six shutout innings and allowed only three hits. The Yanks wound up with a 109-53 record and an eight-game edge over Detroit.

Giants Cinch 3rd; Cepeda, Mays Star

MILWAUKEE (AP)—After just one season at the helm, Alvin Dark has the finest managerial record in San Francisco Giant history.

The Giants beat the Braves 8-2 in the first game of yesterday's doubleheader, mailing down third place in the National League.

The Braves took the nightcap 3-2 in 10 innings but, as the final game of the year, it didn't affect the standings at all.

What kind of a year has it been for Dark's crew?

Their 85 victories was their largest win total since coming West from New York.

They won their season series from four clubs, Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, Chicago and Philadelphia. They broke even with the Braves and won but 10 from Cincinnati and nine from St. Louis.

Orlando Cepeda, who hit .311, led the league with 46 home runs and 142 runs batted in, the first time a Giant has won the crown in both departments.

Willie Mays hit .308, including his 40th homer Sunday, his 123rd run knocked in and 129th run scored. The 129 runs were the most in the league.

HOMERS GALORE

The Giants pounded 183 homers, topped only by the Braves' 188 in the National League. But more than half of them came with nobody on base.

Stu Miller, with a 14-5 record and nine saves, was the league's top relief pitcher and a star in both All Star Games.

But the Giants' top three starters—Juan Marichal, Jack Sanford and Mike McCormick—won only 13 apiece. They worked in a total of 107 games. Miller worked in 63.

Attendance at Candlestick Park in San Francisco was 1,389,679—second only to Los Angeles in the circuit, but down 405,677 from 1960.

92 WAS ENOUGH

Dark said a month ago that 92 victories would take the pennant. He was right. The champion Reds won 93, four more than the Dodgers.

There was an unusual note to the final dressing room scene. With 17 players due to be offered to New York and Houston, the new clubs in the league, there were not many Giants who could be sure who their 1962 teammates would be.

Indians Name New Manager: Mel McGaha

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians today replaced major league baseball's oldest manager with its youngest, naming 35-year-old Coach Mel McGaha to succeed Jimmy Dykes, who will be 65 next month. McGaha's contract was for one year.

McGaha, brought here by former General Manager Frank Lane as first base coach for the 1961 campaign, never played in the major leagues. The University of Arkansas graduate spent 11 seasons in the minors, playing several positions and mostly in the Texas League for Shreveport and Houston.

As a manager for three minor league seasons, McGaha had good success, bringing Mobile to two runnerup finishes and leading Toronto to the 1960 International League pennant.

McGaha's selection was no surprise.

Redwood Drops Second In Row

By GLENN BECKER

A saddened group of Redwood High football players discovered Saturday night that half hearted efforts by important members of their team were a sure ticket to defeat. This enlightenment came during a 32-6 loss to Carlmont High at Redwood City.

With Carlmont taking advantage of most of its many breaks, and the Giants in the main playing a sloppy, uninspired brand of ball, the Scots completely dominated the action during almost the entire game. The lone exception occurred during the last few minutes of the fourth quarter, when Redwood drove 80 yards against the Carlmont third string for its only touchdown.

Fullback Steve Solinsky scored it on a four yard plunge.

Senior halfback Keith Norton, one of the Giants who gave 100 per cent effort all the way, accounted for 49 of the 80 yards and was one of the few bright spots for Giant partisans. Other than this Redwood thrust, Carlmont so controlled the course of action that in only one other instance did the visitors from Marin County run an offensive play in their opponent's territory. Late in the third quarter the Giant's found themselves on the Scot 49 after Solinsky had intercepted a Carlmont forward pass. On their first down play however the Giant's saw one of their own aerials snagged by an alert Scot, and the Redwood "threat" was over.

The Giants' best quarter was the first when they prevented the Scots from scoring or achieving a first down until the closing minutes of that period. One of the three Carlmont interceptions of Redwood passes gave the Scots position on the Giant 23 yard line. A key fourth down pass for six yards put Carlmont on the nine, and from there Keith Carmen belted over right guard for the initial touchdown.

The Giant's stubborn defense during this quarter was sparked by guard Ray Maher, who continued to play well throughout the less successful remainder of the game.

Although the Giant offensive effort availed nothing, the defense was still operating effectively until late in the second period. Scot quarterback Chuck Hunt, who wore the goat's horn in his team's 12-0 loss to Redwood last year, finally zeroed his heretofore erratic passes on big end Arnold Giltin for two quick touchdowns. This gave Carlmont a commanding lead at halftime.

The winners tallied again in the third and fourth quarters to salt the game away before Redwood managed to avert a shutout.

Redwood fans remember that intense desire to win was an integral ingredient of previous Giant teams which have won Marin County Athlete League titles with their hard-nose play. To the former the lack luster of some of the 1961 Redwood gridmen has been an unexpected and, needless to say, unhappy surprise. The Giants' loss Saturday was their second straight — the first time that has occurred since the early part of Redwood's first season in 1958.

Disgruntled Giant rooters can be comforted by the fact that in Bob Troppmann, Redwood has one of Northern California's most successful and resourceful coaches. Troppmann plans to improve the record of his team. which has achieved only an opening game tie with Montgomery with some changes in personnel and attitudes before the MCAL campaign starts in two weeks. The Giant mentor still feels that he has the nucleus of another fine team.

Mantle May Not Play In Opener

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees said today he doubted he would be able to play in the opening World Series game Wednesday against Cincinnati at Yankee Stadium.

Mantle was released this morning from Lenox Hill Hospital where he has been recuperating from minor surgery on an abscess on his right hip. He had expected to work out with the Yankees.

"If I feel like this Wednesday, I won't be able to play," he said in the Yankee clubhouse. "I still feel very weak. The leg hurts. I can't run on it. I was hoping to work out but I can't."

Asked if he would be able to play at all in the series, Mantle replied, "I just don't know when I can play."

Redlegs Flop In Tuneup For World Series

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cincinnati's final tuneups against left-handed pitching in Pittsburgh failed to boost the Reds' chances of beating Whitey Ford in the World Series opener Wednesday at Yankee Stadium.

Joe Gibbon held the National League champions to seven hits yesterday, beating them 3-1 and lefty Al Jackson stopped them Saturday.

Bob Purkey, slated to face the Yanks' Bill Stafford in the third series game at Cincinnati next Saturday, had a fine workout. He allowed only three hits and one unearned run in six innings against the Pirates, Relief man Jim Brosnan was nicked for four hits, two runs and his fourth defeat in the seventh inning.

San Francisco nailed down third place by thumping Milwaukee 8-2 in the first game of a doubleheader behind Billy O'Dell. The Braves won the second, 3-2.

The second-place Los Angeles Dodgers, who finished four games back of the Reds, sprayed 15 hits around Wrigley Field while whipping the Chicago Cubs, 8-2.

Curt Flood waited until the final day to hit his second homer of the season in St. Louis' 2-0 victory over the Phillies who suffered their 107th loss. The Phils, finishing last, were 46 games behind Cincinnati.

Gibbon struck out eight Cincinnati batters while notching his 13th victory at Pittsburgh. The Pirates' Roberto Clemente, who wound up with the batting title on a .351 average, sat out the final games after being hit by a pitched ball Tuesday. His closest challenger, Vada Pinson of the Reds finished with .342.

Koala Scores First Win After Many, Many Tries

By AL MATSON

The time-worn cliche "if at first you don't succeed, etc." could not be more applicable than in the case of Miller McNear and his trim Koala in the Northern California Power Cruisers Assn.'s race held on Saturday.

McNear, a member of the San Rafael Yacht Club, has gone to the wars many times but had never attained the winner's circle until this race. And it was a smashing victory. Not only was the Koala first in division "A," but came through to top the whole fleet with over-all honors.

However, the battle for season's championship is a torrid affair with, unofficially, Clyde Steven's Imp, St. Francis Yacht Club, ahead by a few points, but My Fair Lady, owned by Jerry Franceschi, Sausalito Cruising Club, and Jack Kirby's Slo Gin, Oakland Yacht Club, mighty close astern.

Slo-Gin was second, My Fair Lady third and Imp was fifth in the race sponsored by the Sausalito Cruising Club. History will be made next Saturday in the final race of the season with the Golden Gate Yacht Club doing the honors.

Conditions were well nigh perfect for the Small Yacht Racing Assn.'s Regatta yesterday held off St. Francis Yacht Club but officiated by the Lake Merced Sailing Club.

It was a day, not without honor, too, for the sailors of Marin. San Francisco Yacht Club made a grand slam in the clipper class, John Card, first, Al Olinger, second and Scott Harris, third.

Dr. Manuel Allende of the same club breezed home first in the Rhodes 19 class, Wally English and Bob Peterson placed second and third for the Sausalito Yacht Club in the Mermaid class. Last but far from least it was a second and third for Tom Blackaller and John Rumsey of the San Francisco Yacht Club in the Star class.

Spinal Defects Noted In Many Ulcer Patients

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

You can't enjoy life when you are suffering from stomach ulcers. Some of the first signs of ulcers are gas pains, indigestion and a swelling or bloated feeling.

Operations or diets sometimes bring temporary relief. But after a while that old ulcer acts up again unless you correct the real cause of the trouble.

German medical doctors have reported that they noticed spinal defects in 86 of 100 ulcer patients. Using Chiropactic methods, these German medical men restored their patients to health by eliminating the cause of the ulcers.

Research has disclosed that pinched nerves of the spine often interfere with the nerves controlling the digestive juices and cause a body imbalance. Ulcers then result when foods are unable to get their normal supply of these digestive juices.

Chiropractors use X-ray and other scientific methods to check for spinal defects. They are spine specialists and are able to correct such defects without hospitalization. Ulcer trouble generally goes away once the spine is corrected and the body is able to function normally.

FRANKLIN T. WEBER
Heads new agency

Insurance Office Opens Headquarters

The Equitable Life Assurance Society has established an agency headquarters in San Rafael and named Franklin T. Weber, formerly an agency manager in San Francisco for the company, as its manager.

The new agency, with headquarters at 1001 D Street, will serve eight Northern California counties, it was announced from New York by Coy G. Eklund, Equitable vice president.

At the same time, the Equitable's office in Mill Valley is being moved to 101 Casa Buena Drive, Corte Madera, as Golden Gate District office of the new agency. Milton M. Cerf is its manager.

The Golden Gate District will inlcude Marin and an area north to Calistoga, plus part of the San Francisco peninsula, Cerf said.

He said the move from Mill Valley was made to acquire larger offices.

Weber, the new agency manager, is a native of North Dakota who became associated with Equitable as an agent in Santa Rosa in 1952. In 1954 he was made district manager in Santa Rosa and last year became manager of one of the company's two agencies in San Francisco.

He and his wife and four daughters recently moved into a new home at 76 Redwood Drive, San Rafael.

Former Teacher To Be Honored

Miss Mary A. Ball of Mill Valley, former executive for council activities of the California Teachers Assn., will be honored at a recognition dinner Wednesday at Mark Hopkins Hotel, San Francisco.

Miss Ball, who lives at 165 Eldridge Avenue, retired on July 31 after 33 years in the teaching profession.

Dr. Arthur E. Corey, CTA state executive secretary, announced that the dinner is planned by the CTA staff. "Perhaps her finest contribution was her leadership in organizing the California Student Teachers Assn.," said Dr. Corey.

Miss Ball taught at Needles and in Redwood City before joining the CTA staff as office manager in 1928.

Steinmetzes To Address Club At Birthday Meet, Oct. 11

The Women's Club of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Church in Mill Valley will hold its 18th annual birthday meeting at the church on Oct. 11 at 8 p.m., according to club vice president Mrs. John St. Denis.

San Rafael landscape architects Katy and Paul Stenimetz will be featured speakers at the evening meeting, and will take as their topic, "Do You Abandon Your Garden in the Winter?" Their talk, to be illustrated with colored slides, will be followed by a question and answer period.

Katy and Paul Steinmetz recently executed the landscaping plans for the new Marin Municipal Water District building in Corte Madera. They have served as landscape architects for the San Rafael and San Anselmo school districts and have designed playgrounds both in Marin and in San Francisco.

A special feature of the Mt. Carmel Club's birthday party is the cutting of the cake by the group's past presidents. These include the Mesdames Louis Rilla, John Young, Ed Hinde, Gerald Misner, Gerald Gooch, Albert Eberhart, Jack Baat, William Candrian, Dan Beswick, James Bayliss, George Turnbull, Joseph Penders, Anthony Almada, and J. J. Rasella.

Also invited to attend the meeting will be the club's honorary members, Mrs. William Curley and Mrs. Roque Moraes, and charter members, the Mesdames Rilla, Harold Winter, Ella Mae Santos, Harry King, Alberta Eberhart, John Collins, and Lawrence Reeder.

Slim Trim Class Begins Tomorrow

Ladies, are you shipshape or shaped like a ship? Have you graduated from size 12 to size 16? Or, are you one of the fortunates still wearing size 12? Either way, you can shape up the fun way, by joining the San Rafael Recreation Department's Slim Trim class for women, which starts tomorrow.

Classes meet on Wednesday nights from 8:30 to 10 at the San Rafael High School Gymnasium. Margie Belrose, of the Belrose Dance Studio, is instructor. Activities include corrective calisthenics and active sports such as badminton, volleyball and basketball.

New In Nightwear

Fashion's newest invention for women is a bra for nighttime. Called "sweet dreams," the bra provides an easy figure control, and is designed to be worn under both sleepwear and loungewear. It is made of nylon lace and tricot, with a front closing for comfort.

YOUR HOUSEHOLD

Foam Rubber, Draperies Will Limit Home Clatter

Soundproofing is an expensive proposition, but do-it-yourselfers need not unbalance the budget.

The trick is to use plenty of easy-to-install inexpensive foam rubber and wall-to-wall draperies as well as acoustical tile, the latter as you can afford it.

Start soundproofing the average small house, the experts advise, in the noisiest areas—the kitchen or family room—and gradually expand it to the rest of the house as the budget permits.

For walls and ceilings, acoustical tile is the top noise reducer. It absorbs up to 75 per cent of the sound and comes in easy-to-handle squares that can be installed without professional help. Be sure to get the proper paint for the tile: some paints will prevent the tile from absorbing sound.

Footsteps are best muffled by foam rubber pading under carpets. One manufacturer now offers the foam rubber padding attached to carpeting that can be custom-fitted wall-to-wall by the householder with an installation kit.

Inch-deep foam pads under hi-fi, TV and radio sets will not only keep the sound from traveling through walls or floors, but improve the quality of sound in the room. The mats are also good for absorbing the vibration of noisy refrigerators and washing machines.

Foam rubber also helps seal out sounds when used for weatherstripping at the top and sides of door frames. This is an important facet of home soundproofing; doors are one of the major noise conductors.

Mastectomy Club Has Swim Party In Haberman Home

Members of the Mastectomy Service Club held its annual party recently at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haberman, in Ross.

Members and their husbands or escorts swam and later enjoyed the buffet supper, which had been prepared previously by the members. Mrs. Haberman was both hostess to the club and a guest of the group for the evening.

The Mastectomy Club, besides offering service to recent patients, has occasional events such as this summer party, in order that the families of the group can become acquainted.

Regular meetings of the Mastectomy Club are held on the fourth Tuesday of every month at the homes of members. Location of each meeting is decided upon one month in advance, and doctors, who are always welcome to attend, can receive this information by telephoning Mrs. Ranald Cockburn or the Marin Medical Society in San Rafael.

Women interested in joining the club should telephone Mrs. Cockburn for details of the group's activities. Membership is open to any woman who has had a mastectomy.

Labels Guide Food's Quality

URBANA, Ill. (UPI)—The labels on food are an important clue to their quality.

Mrs. Glenna Lamkin, University of Illinois home economist defines some of the most common:

—"Breakfast" on cocoa labels means the cocoa contains at least 22 per cent fat.

—"French dressing" indicates the presence of 30 per cent oil in the product. Italian, Roquefort or fruit dressing without the word "French" probably do not contain this much oil.

—"Fancy," "choice" and "standard" indicate quality in canned foods. "Fancy" means high-quality food — the best product sold by the processor or distributor. 'Choice" indicates a product perhaps not quite so perfect in size or shape. "Standard" canned food is a good product, but the fruits or vegetables may be imperfect in size and shape. The vegetables are usually more mature and the fruit packed in light syrup.

USDA prime, choice, good, standard, commercial and utility are the federal terms for beef grades in retail stores. In decreasing order of quality, choice, good and stardard are the grades most frequently available.

Patterned Ceiling In Vogue

CHICAGO (UPI) — Patterned ceilings are coming back into vogue. The trend grows from a new decorating concept designers call "totalism." This is the theory that good decorating involves all elements of the room—the ceiling as well as walls and floor.

There's nothing new about decorating the ceiling. It's been done in churches and public buildings, particularly domed buildings, for centuries, but the ceiling, as a decorative element in the home, went into oblivion years ago.

Contributions to the revival are the more than 200 designs, colors and patterns now available in fiberboard acoustical ceiling tile.

Paint, wallpaper, paneling and other materials also are being used to decorate the ceiling. In the fiberboard tiles, the arrangement of the acoustical openings contributes to the patterned effect. The openings, which may be drilled, punched, striated, fissured or grooved for further decorative variety, capture and eliminate up to 70 per cent of the noise in a room.

Decorators recommend fissured or perforated tiles in travertine patterns for formal living and dining rooms. Bold modern patterns and whimsical or gay provincial patterns are suggested for the ceilings of informal family or recreation rooms.

Among the tile patterns available are clouds, autumn leaves, bamboo, confetti, Japanese lanterns, vines, straw, plaids, stars, lace, linen, marble, fabric designs, surf, driftwood and parquet.

The tiles are guaranteed not to crack, chip or peel. If the room is redecorated, they can be painted right over the pattern without affecting the sound-proofing qualities.

Girl At Wheel Advised To Use Safety Checklist

CHICAGO (UPI) — Women drivers should take these extra precautions against accidents and mechanical failures, to avoid being stranded alone in a stalled car.

The Good Car-keeping Institute gave these tips:

Replace frayed windshield wiper blades as soon as they begin streaking. Check floor mats, especially around the accelerator pedal, for worn spots that can catch high heels and lead to an accident. Replace cracked windshields or rear windows that may obstruct vision.

Keep side and rear-view mirrors clean and check them regularly for marred surfaces. Watch for a red light on the ignition switch. It indicates that the battery or generator is not working properly. Have the tires inspected to see that the tread is still good.

Television Daddy Is Dope, But Don't You Believe It

Television daddies are dopes. Have you noticed? Look at this winter's shows. Mama is a paragon of virtue. Daddy hasn't sense enough to pound sand down a rathole. Pathetic, isn't he?

How accurate are the TV portraits? If they tell the truth we're in a sad state. But they aren't correct. The man of your family isn't an idiot. He makes mistakes, of course, and he is far from perfect. But he is not that stupid.

On the average we fathers are pretty good guys. We're bigger and stronger than our dads. We're better educated. We live longer. Probably we work harder. We try to cooperate. Many of us come close to being real partners with our wives.

A generation or two ago things were different. Dads were dictators, or tried to be. When they spoke everyone jumped, including mama. Remember the play, "Life With Father?" Or the book, "Cheaper by the Dozen"? No doubt about who was boss in those families.

Why does TV make dads look silly? I think I know. Many of us grownups were raised in the dictator type home. We obeyed, but we resented it. We've had a grudge against fathers ever since. When a TV program portrays daddy as a knucklehead, we lap it up. We vent our feelings that way.

TV mothers are different. They have to be. We remember our mothers with love. They were kinder to us than our fathers, and more helpful. We would get sore if the programs made mama look like fools. So? So watch the shows. You'll enjoy 'em. But please don't take those fathers seriously!

Psychiatrist Says 'Adult' Love A Marital Must

DENVER (UPI) — Adult love, not child's love, is necessary for a successful marriage.

That's the thesis of Dr. John Lyon, psychiatrist at Mount Airy Hospital in Denver. Dr. Lyon has studied the "breakup" of marriages which have lasted from one day to 40 years.

"Rather, I get to deal with the broken pieces of these marriages," said Lyon.

"Adult love exists when you are as concerned with the other fellow's welfare as your own," said Lyon.

"If it would help, maybe it ought to be state law to have this one thing tattooed on the brides and bridegrooms-to-be," he said. Then he added, pessimistically, "maybe that wouldn't help, either."

Lyon put it this way: "A woman can make her husband hate her if her love is childish and she sees him as a provider of material things. And a husband will fail if his love is childish and he never thinks he should do something to take care of his wife's wishes and needs."

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, Oct. 3, the 276th day of the year with 89 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1863, President Abraham Lincoln issued a proclamation designating the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day.

In 1900, American novelist Thomas Wolfe was born.

In 1922, Rebecca Feltonn, Democrat from Georgia, became the first woman in the United States to be seated in the Senate. She received a temporary appointment from the governor of Georgia to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Sen. Thomas Watson.

A thought for today: Thomas Wolfe said: "If a man has a talent and cannot use it, he has failed. If he has a talent and uses only half of it, he has partly failed. If he has a talent and learns somehow to use the whole of it, he has gloriously succeeded, and won satisfaction and a triumph few men ever knew."

Our Schools Are Better And There's Proof Of It

Just four years ago, in 1957, the first Sputnik soared into the Soviet sky and circled the globe in a matter of minutes.

The unexpected, immediate result of this scientific achievement was a demand from the American public for major improvements in their schools. The people were dissatisfied with a school system which would not keep up with Soviet scientific training, which would allow the communists to move ahead of us in the space race.

Four years have passed; that's time enough for a student to start and complete his high school education. So we asked two of the top educators in College of Marin if they could note any change in the quality of student they were getting.

"We certainly can," answered Dr. Stephen E. Epler, president of the college. "It is most noticeable in the ability of the incoming Freshmen students in mathematics and science. Those who have had four years of improved high school courses are far better than earlier students."

"I noticed something else," added Carlton E. Cherry, head of the college's engineering department. "We've just finished our first orientation project this year and I noticed particularly that more students followed instructions exactly and got their things in on schedule than ever before. Their answers were higher quality too."

Marin's high schools can take a bow. Here is definite, unbiased evidence that our high schools have improved themselves, that they are offering a better education to our children, and that our children absorb a better course when it is offered.

We hope the high schools—and the elementary schools too, for they must share the responsibility — continue to improve, continue to look critically at what they are offering and how it is being offered.

It is up to the parents, whose outcry started this whole cycle of better education, to remain alert and interested in the schools so they can not drift back into mediocrity.

Glorious Golden Crowns

Just as the people in some snowbound Eastern states look forward to the spring return of the first Robin and mark it on their calendars, in like fashion many Marinites anticipate the autumn return to our county of that sweet-voiced singer, the Golden Crown Sparrow.

The little fellows arrived back in our neighborhood early last week, singing their beautiful, bell-like, three-note song. The notes are minor key and should be sad, but they are sung with such verve and feeling they convey to us an impression of great joy.

Besides singing to announce their arrival, they may be chatting with more settled bird neighbors about the wonderful family they raised this summer in British Columbia.

Golden Crowns love to sing anytime, but they seem to give voice especially when it is raining. To many Marinites the Golden Crown is simply "that bird that sings when it rains."

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

EXPERTS MEASURE 'NORMAL MAN'

What sort of fellow is the "normal man"? Doctors have found it easier to describe the abnormal, but three experts recently came up with a tentative standard.

He is a man who "lives a stable, well-adjusted life, unhampered by serious marital discords, job dissatisfactions, or particularly high aspirations."

The report went on to say that he has little imagination, interest in social activities or high ambitions for his children.

Pascal made this comment nearly 300 years ago: "Man is neither an angel nor a brute, and the very attempt to raise him to the former sinks him to that of the latter."

While it may be true that most people do not set their sights especially high, the transformation that comes over them when they do can be breathtaking.

Do a little soul-searching on your own, asking yourself how you have made use of the talents God has entrusted to you. Then you will be in a better position to spark others to greater achievement.

"For all things are yours . . . and you are Christ's, and Christ is God's."
(1 Corinthians 3:22-23)

Help all men, O Lord, to lift up their sights and work hard for You and their fellow humans.

Can Your Wife Tell Difference In Black, Red Ink On Store Bills?

By BUD SPRUNGER
For Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Gentlemen: Do department store statements make your wife nervous?

Does she hide them from you until pay day?

Does she try to disappear while you figure them out?

Does she point to a figure nervously and say: "Cross off that $17.60. I took those gloves back and they were very nice about it."

Does she think the beginning and end of paying bills is a 10-minute bawling out from you, to be forgotten immediately?

Buster, we are in the same league.

And it is worse than you think. Worse than at least one large New York store realizes. The store thinks it owes me around $300.

That was the great awakening. You and I and that store all know that no department store ever owes any husband.

Going on that premise, I conducted a full-scale investigation and learned that my wife doesn't understand what the bill says. She doesn't know that a store can mark down on one bill what we owe black ink and what I have paid or what she has returned (red ink). It was just so many numbers to her—and she blamed her high school math teacher.

Your wife probably has the same failing.

TAKE MY CASE. We bought a couch and not wanting to get into our usual troubles with so much money involved I left a check, telling my charmer to give it to the man who delivered the couch.

The store, sinking in a quicksand of slips left behind by these ladies when they return gloves, etc., credited me with the amount of the check (red ink) but forgot to charge me for the sofa (black ink). That left me way ahead.

THE MISTAKE WAS explaining to her the difference between red ink and black ink. Now she figures out red ink very well and is delighted. She intends to spend her balance (it has ceased to be "our" balance) forthwith.

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Law 2553 banning scooters from the freeways does not appear to be doing its job. It has done little or nothing to relieve traffic congestion simply because there isn't that many scooters on the freeway at any one time.

It has only caused unjust restrictions to scooter owners and has jeopardized the business and livelihood of many Californians.

A scooter is an economical and pleasurable means of transportation. It is compactly designed for maneuverability in the traffic-gutted cities of the world. It is just as safe and reliable on any road as the owner cares to make it; of course this applies to any and all vehicles.

It certainly isn't possible for our noble members of the State Legislature or of the California Highway Department to be suffering from myopia, but someone is apparently not seeing the other factors of freeway congestion, such as the over-cautious, slow-moving citizen and the monstrous, lumbering diesels.

As trucks are restricted to a maximum speed by state law, so are scooters limited to that same speed—by law of their own nature. Is it not true that a motorist can see beyond and pass more easily the individual on his misunderstood two-wheeled machine?

A more sensible, beneficial, and superior method of controlling all traffic would be the promotion, establishment, and enforcement of a minimum freeway speed law. An example of this would be 45, 55, 65 m.p.h. minimum speed in slow to fast lanes consecutively. Naturally a minimum speed law must not override the law to drive any faster than prevailing conditions permit.

Vehicles that are not capable of maintaining a minimum speed limit should not be allowed on any freeway where there is a frontage road or an alternate route available; the exception being where there is NO other route and the freeway MUST be used to arrive at the destination.

A minimum horsepower rating on freeway vehicles should not be over-emphasized, for a 400 horsepower, 20 foot, chromium-finned, gas-guzzling barge can surely slow and cruise at 40 m.p.h. Furthermore, a heavily loaded truck with a multiple horsepower rating often creeps over five per cent grades at speeds that will frustrate the progress of the most decrepit, powerless, lowly foreign car or any scooter.

Another law that Californians should agree upon for their own good would be a law that demands a yearly mechanical inspection of all vehicles (brakes, headlight alignment, steering, etc.) and an OK certificate before registration and license are issued. At this time, the CHP cannot recognize a faulty automobile until after the inevitable accident. Let's get junkheaps off the roads!

In closing, the unrealism and illogic of Law 2553 gives cause for its reconsideration by the state for revisal or revocation so as to nullify its effect to cause trouble, ill feeling and unrest by unjustly discriminating against a significant minority.

BREAKS AGAINST DEMOS

GOP Could Win House Next Year

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 87th Congress will be back in January for the legislative battles which will determine the winner of next year's congressional elections.

For the Republican Party, things are looking up. The Republicans have no chance next year to win the Senate. They could win the House, however, and have a pretty good chance to do so.

The session of Congress just adjourned has tagged the Kennedy administration and the Democratic congressional majorities as big spenders. Very big.

CONGRESS CLIPPED $3 billion from Kennedy spending proposals, but the sum appropriated still added up to almost $96 billion, a peacetime high.

The administration is on record at home and abroad with a promise to balance the budget in the next fiscal year. That means more taxes next year or some rigorous economy. Either way, the Kennedy administration would be on the defensive.

TO CONTINUE with an unbalanced budget would further rot the purchasing power of the dollar and fire up a red hot political issue, the high cost of living.

Another good Republican political bet is that the Democratic Party will not be able to avoid in the 1962 Congress a shattering intra-party dispute over civil rights.

The Kennedy administration avoided that dispute this year by refusing to support legislation to make good on Democratic presidential platform promises. It will be difficult to postpone civil rights in an election year.

All of Kennedy's 1962 legislative program could be hurt by an all-out civil rights early in the next session. And early in the next session is when that issue is likely to come up.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

The day after a sedate school teacher bought a second-hand sedan she drove it back to the dealer's yard.

"What's wrong?" asked the dealer anxiously.

"Nothing at all," said the teacher sweetly. "I just want to return these things for the dear little old lady you told me owned the car before you sold it to me. She left this plug of tobacco in the glove compartment, and this half-empty bottle of gin under the seat.

A young man once found a few dollar bills on the sidewalk. From that time on he never lifted his eyes from the ground while walking. In the course of 30 years he accummulated 25,916 buttons, 52,172 pins, seven pennies, a bent back, and a sour, miserly disposition.

He lost the glories of the light, the smiles of his friends, the beauties of nature, and the opportunity to enjoy his fellow man and spread happiness.

We Could Conserve Water In Marin By Ponding, Reusing Our Sewage

Astronomers tell us that if other planets are inhabited, those people would not call ours "earth" (for land), but water.

So much of the earth's surface is covered by water, that it is the most outstanding feature of our planet. Just consider the area of the oceans, or the lakes on North America alone.

Consider our sister planet, Mars, on the other hand. It has been estimated that Mars has just about as much water as contained in Lake Erie. All living things on Mars must share this small amount of water.

Yet we here on earth are so used to having a superabundance of water that we thoughtlessly waste it in enormous quantities.

California, before the advent of irrigation, was a semi-arid and desert state. With irrigation, it became the richest agricultural state in the nation.

Even with this use of water, California is guilty of wasting vast quantities of water that could easily be utilized.

Every time someone lets a tap run to cool water, it goes to waste. Every time clothes are washed or one takes a shower, gallons of good water go down the drain.

This water could be reused to good advantage. All cities in California dump this fresh water into rivers, bays or the ocean.

It would be just as easy to take this water and use it for irrigation purposes. The water contains certain chemicals, like detergents, which will slightly contaminate it for immediate drinking, but these would be eliminated if the water was ponded and filtered through soil.

In Marin County, there are still many small valleys that could be dammed and the treated sewage pumped into such a lake. Nature would soon purify it by aeration and sunlight.

Then when water is needed for irrigation, it would be available. Lakes and ponds would be created all over the state. And millions of acre feet of water made available for irrigation. All it would cost is the reverse pumping.

WATER CAN BE a bad as well as a good thing. North Marin just went through a period when water had to be rationed. That made many people aware of its use and conservation.

But the San Jose School District board wouldn't always agree that water was a good thing. The wet soil, caused by springs at the site of the new San Jose intermediate school, delayed the building by several months.

Now the board has had to award a special extra contract just to get the water drained off the site.

THEN THERE was the Novato housewife who was putting clothes into her washing machine. She picked them out of the basket and dropped them into the machine.

Then she saw a mouse through the door of the automatic washer. She was afraid to open the door and take it out. After all, it might have rabies!

Suddenly a bright idea occurred to her. She turned on the water and drowned it!

HENRY MacARTHUR

It Looks Like 13 Months Of Political Brickbats; Issues Later

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Now that business is booming in the political field, the public will find it necessary to set itself for a long, drawn-out campaign, 13 months to be exact, during which brickbats will be as common as footballs in the fall.

The boom took a strong upswing when Richard M. Nixon, former vice president, declared himself for governor on a nation-wide television press conference.

NIXON STARTED in early with the brick-bats for Gov. Edmund G. Brown. He described Brown as the "bungling" governor and declaring that the situation in Sacramento is in a "mess."

Some good Republicans thought that was the understatement of the year. And a lot of good Democrats after three years of the Brown administration, were inclined to agree.

But on the other hand, Nixon has a few hurdles to cross before he tangles with Governor Brown for the governorship in November, if he gets there at all.

HE MUST WIN the GOP nomination in the primaries. This is not going to be easy against a seasoned campaigner like former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight. He also has to reckon with Assemblyman Joseph Shell of Los Angeles, and Harold J. Powers, who served under him as lieutenant governor.

But, as has been pointed out, it's a free country and anyone who wants to, and has the money, can run for governor.

But assuming Nixon does get the nomination, and becomes Brown's opponent (also assuming Brown gets his nomination), the two eventually will run out of brickbats for the simple reason no one can engage in a negative campaign for as long as 13 months.

When the name-calling ends, then perhaps some of the real issues of the campaign will come to light. This may be of benefit to the public, for a personality doesn't make a governor, no matter if the personality is elected.

THE ISSUE at stake in the forthcoming campaign will be one of separate philosophies.

The question will be, does the state want to continue to live in the philosophy of the give-away, the government donation to the unworthy, the free-spending of the public's money, high tax rates to finance the socialistic programs and the transmission of extensive debt to future generations?

Or does the state want to return to the philosophy of reasonable reward for reasonable work, without the necessity of paying the greater part of the producers' profits into a welfare state?

THESE COULD BE the issues no matter what candidates run on the Republican and Democratic tickets.

Eventually, government is going to reach the bottom of the taxpayers' barrel. It's getting closer all the time. One of the primary reasons it's getting closer is the exorbitant waste of that portion of the tax dollar which goes to support useless bureaucrats, useless functions of government and other feeders at the public trough.

The Republicans will emphasize this issue, and could be welcomed back by the people who will pay the bills.

HOW TO PLAY

Opening lead — ◇ Q

Don't start off by winning the first trick with the ace of diamonds. How can you tell what to discard? You don't know whether your thirteenth trick will come from a heart or a club.

Ruff the first diamond, lead the queen of spades to draw one round of trumps, and then test the hearts by leading out the ace and king. As the cards lie, the queen of hearts drops. You draw the rest of the trumps and discard a club on dummy's ace of diamonds.

If you had discarded the jack of hearts at the first trick on dummy's ace of diamonds, you would have thrown away your thirteenth trick.

OTHER CHANCES: If the queen of hearts failsd to drop you still have other chances for the contract. Lead a trump to dummy's nine. If the trumps break 2-2 you can discard the jack of hearts and ruff out your fourth club.

If the trumps fail to break discard the jack of hearts and ruff a heart. The hearts may break, and then you can return to dummy with the king of spades to cash dummy's last heart.

If trumps and hearts both break badly, leave the king of spades in dummy and test the clubs. The jack may drop on the first, second or third round of clubs. If so, you draw the last trump and claim your contract. If the jack of clubs fails to drop, you may still find the long clubs and the last missing trump in the same hand. You will then be able to cash your top clubs and ruff your last club without interference.

DAILY QUESTION: Partner opens with two spades (forcing to game), and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ 8 6 5
♥ 10 8 6 5
♦ K 8 7 4
♣ 7 2

What do you say?

Answer: Bid 2 NT. This is the negative response, indicating that you have a very poor hand. Partner has asked that you keep the bidding open until game is reached, so you must use this method of bidding without encouraging him.

Volunteer Fireman Planning Dance

The Tiburon Volunteer Firemen's Assn. will make final plans for its 11th annual dance at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the main fire station, according to President Allen A. Olson.

The dance will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Oct. 14 at the Corinthian Yacht Club, with a buffet supper served at midnight. General chairman is Randolph J. Esplin.

Water Safety Course Planned

Marin Red Cross Chapter will conduct a water safety instructor's course in two phases at the Girl Scout pool at Arequipa near Fairfax.

Phase 1 is for holders of current senior life saving certificates and for those whose water safety instructor certificates have expired. It will be held from 7 to 10 p.m. on Oct. 10, 12, 17 and 19 and from 9 a.m. to noon, Oct. 14 and 21.

Phase 2 is a refresher course for those now holding a water safety instructor's certificate and will be held from 7 to 10 p.m., Oct. 24, 25, 26, and 27 and 9 a.m. to noon, Oct. 28. Registration may be made at the chapter headquarters at 712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

Kentfield Man Designs Award-Winning Rings

Three diamond designs by Robert Lindemann of Kentfield, owner of Lindemann Jewelry Co., in San Francisco, were among 21 winners announced today in this year's diamonds awards contest sponsored by the De Beers diamond monopoly.

This was the fourth consecutive year in which Lindemann was a winner in the competition, with participation by jewelry designers from all over the world. Nearly 500 designs were submitted.

Designs must employ use of diamonds and fit into certain price categories. No entry bears the name of the designer, his firm or his nation.

The Lindemann winners included a diamond "bombe" ring in the $500 category, a diamond and pearl leaf necklace, also in the $500 class, and a Royal Pave diamond watch in the $4,000 category.

Royal Pave is a new award group in which the design style requires tight massing of stones to eliminate as much visible metal as possible, creating a sparkling surface of diamonds.

Traditional work of this sort uses small diamonds but in Royal Pave, diamonds range from about a quarter to a third of a carat, the larger stones permitting a greater variety of surface treatment and producing a more brilliant effect.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindemann attended a luncheon today at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York where the winners were announced.

Lindemann's diamond watch was included in a special display of award winners in a Diamonds - International Awards collection shown today.

DIAMOND DESIGN CONTEST WINNER—Robert Lindemann of Kentfield for the fourth successive year has won awards in an annual international contest sponsored by the De Beers diamond monopoly. This time three of his designs were chosen among 21 winners from a total of nearly 500 entrants by designers in every part of the world.

No Objections On Marina Project

No objection has been received to Paradise Park Marina's small boat marina project on the Marin bay coast between Point Chauncey and California Point, according to the army engineers' office in San Francisco yesterday which was end of the stipulated period for objections.

A use permit has already been granted by the county planning commission for dredging of 30,000 cubic yards of materials to provide a six-foot deep basin, also to construct a 1,000 breakwater and installing mooring facilities.

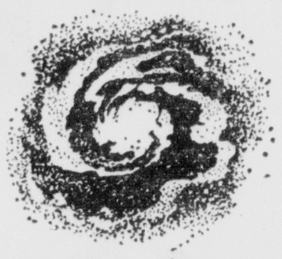
What is a SPIRAL NEBULA?



A spiral nebula is a vast group of celestial bodies appearing in the form of a spiral.

The study of astronomy is essential to acquiring a better understanding of our universe. In the near future we will need many more scientists to probe the secrets of outer space.

But many potential scientists may never go on to higher learning because there may not be room for them in college. Already many colleges are overcrowded and in 10 years applications will double. We will need more and better college classrooms and scientific apparatus. And we will need thousands more of the highest quality professors.

To Know What Goes Together Helps Set A Beautiful Table

By JOYCE SCHULLER

CHICAGO (UPI) — To set a beautiful table takes a knowledge of what goes with what in china, silver, glass and linens.

Here are some of the basics:

For a safe and sure combination, use all plain elements —silver, china and glass. This doesn't rule out using antique silver or glassware with modern china or vice versa, the experts advise, so long as all patterns are comparatively plain, deriving their beauty from line and form. To relieve the austerity of a plain table, use a bright colored tablecloth or china.

Include one plain element in an elaborate setting. For example, try plain silver with elaborately-patterned floral or pictorial china and ornately-cut glassware, etched with intricate traceries. Too much pattern at the table can be overpowering.

Avoid mixing bold and dainty patterns, such as delicate rose-bud-etched silver and multi-colored china, usually modern, in large splashy patterns.

Repeat pattern, but not too often. Too much of the same thing—a wheat motif, for example — grows monotonous when carried out on everything —silver, china, glass.

Both texture and color in a tablecloth help to determine the mood of a setting. Pick the heavier, rougher linen and cotton weaves for casual tables, the smoother, finer textures for more elegant tables. Damask cloths are still tops for the really formal affair.

Blue tablecloths enhance the look of silver. Deep jewel tones such as emerald and burgundy make for a dramatic setting. Dainty pastels are feminine; warm nature tones, homey; neutrals, cool and dignified.

Patterned tablecloths also set the character of a table. A gay, checkered tablecloth, provincial patterns or stripes all strike a note of informality for the casual table. The delicate floral pattern, on the other hand, brightens a plain table setting without making it completely informal.

There are exceptions, but it's safest to use patterned cloths with plain china, glass and silver.

Centerpieces always should be in proportion to the table. On a bridge table, a tiny bud vase with a single rose may be most effective. The formal dinner table calls for a larger centerpiece, but keep it low enough not to interfere with conversation.

Use single candlesticks for simple tables, three or five-light silver candelabras for elegant tables.

Bethel Plans Style Show On Oct. 7

A fashion luncheon on Saturday will be the junior princess project this fall for Mill Valley's Bethel 119 of Job's Daughters.

The event, which is the traditional means of providing funds for installation of officers in the spring, will take place at 12 o'clock in the banquet room of the Masonic Temple in Mill Valley.

Newsman Told Outdoor Club Of U.S. Role

Edward Radenzel, foreign news editor of a San Francisco newspaper and television commentator, told members of the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley Thursday at their guest day program that he does not believe there will be world war in the near future.

Radenzel, who lives in Homestead Valley, spoke on "the future of the West — changes and conflict." He was introduced by program chairman Mrs. William Searles after a brief business meeting.

He went on to say he believes that East and West Germany will remain in a state of conflict for years to come. Change and conflict are the order of our times, he said. But war is irrational at this time. This country should have the courage of its convictions and lead the world down a better path.

He recommended that the United States should (1) help and educate Latin America and Africa (2) have a long range plan to meet the threat of communism (3) find new tools to advance the pace of economic and industrial development of all nations and (4) expand the free world.

Tea was served after the program by Mrs. Cecil Brown and Mrs. Frank Keane, assisted by Mesdames George Unmacht, Fred Bullock, Jack Younger, Melvin Klyce, John Coutlee, Thomas Zilka, John Nahapiet and Donald Harper. Pouring were Mesdames Mills Calahan, Richard Stanton, Preston Burris and Marion Andre.

Flower arrangements were done by Mesdames Cletus Graves, E. H. Hildebrand and J. C. Osborn, and there was an exhibit in the foyer of oil paintings by club members.

Shortening Coat Sleeves Is Done By Folding Up First

By EUNICE FARMER

"Here is a suggestion on shortening the sleeves of children's coats: Remove any buttons on the sleeves. Measure up and mark with pins, the amount that needs taking up.

"Fold sleeve on that marked line, taking up the folded edge only, and pushing the rest of the lower sleeve and lining up into the sleeve. Baste around the sleeve on the new hem line. Carefully pull the lining back down and hem into place, being sure not to pull it down so far that the armhole would draw. Replace the buttons the same distance from finished hem.

"When having coat cleaned before putting away for the season, remove buttons and thread used to hem the lining. Pull back the hem in place as the original."—Mrs. L. S.

"I made a cape out of some black corded material. I have always wanted a cape, but now I wonder if anyone is wearing them for general wear."—Mrs. R. L. S.

Dear Mrs. R. L. S.:

Most women who dress in extremely "high fashion" would not consider their wardrobe complete without a cape. Normally they would not be worn for general or casual wear, unless they are currently popular.

We are going through a fashion period where capes are extremely popular. You will find them in the most casual tweeds for sportswear, to the most elegant fabrics for formal daytime and evening wear. If you are tall, by all means try one; they're fun to wear. However, tall or short, unless you are on the "slim" side, they can make you look very dumpy.

"Will you please write in your column how to hem a coat where the facing becomes so thick and bulky?"—Mrs. G. R. N.

Dear Mrs. G. R. N.:

The method you use for finishing the front faced edges would depend on whether it would ever need to be lengthened, as with children's clothes.

If there is no possibility of lengthening, stitch the coat to the facing across the lower edge of the jacket or coat, on the hem marks.

Trim the facing about ¼ inch below stitching line. Then trim the coat fabric itself, about ½ inch from stitching line. Begin trimming the coat fabric 1 inch past the width of the facing, so the cut edge will not show where the facing ends.

Tailor's Hem: After the hem has been turned up, pressed and cut to 2½ inches, machine stitch about ¼ inch from cut edge. Now pink this cut edge. Baste through the hem and the skirt, about 1 inch from hem. Turn pinked edge back about ½ inch and loosely slip-stitch hem to skirt. Be careful to catch in only a few threads. This type of hem is especially recommended for heavy fabrics that will not ravel.

Please send me your little "tricks" which we might share with our Sew Simple fans. You may be rewarded by winning a Tailor Trix pressing board. Send your suggestions to Sew Simple in care of this paper. If you would like to have my leaflet on buttonholes, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Eunice Farmer in care of the Independent-Journal.

P-TA Membership Drive Is Underway Again This Year

Time to join P-TA again. Did you know the P-TA is the world's largest private organization? The P-TA helps children. That's why it is so popular.

Good things come from your school group. You need a traffic signal on a busy corner. Who fights for it? Your P-TA. A few kids lack warm clothes or shoes. Or maybe food. Who comes to their rescue? Your P-TA.

Other benefits come from the district office. Your school system needs a mental health clinic to help emotionally handicapped children. Who digs up the money to start the clinic? Your district P-TA.

Progress comes also through the state P-TA headquarters. Laws are needed so schools can have special classes for retarded youngsters. Your state P-TA officials see that the bills pass the legislature, and that the governor signs 'em.

Nation-wide improvements come from the national P-TA headquarters. I'll never forget what happened when comic books were so bad. Do you remember when they reeked of crime and sex? Murders occurred on every page. Heroines went naked. The techniques of crimes were explained in full detail. You and I complained, but nothing happened. Then the National Congress of Parents and Teachers took up the fight. Within three months comic books were transformed. They have stayed clean ever since.

When you join the P-TA you support its work on all levels. You become part of the greatest movement for children's betterment this world has ever seen. So join.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "I tried to start a P-TA in a European city. I failed. Don't European parents care about their schools?" A. R.

(A) They care. But their schools are controlled by their national governments. Local groups are powerless. Therefore European parents haven't learned to be active in school betterment. Their children are the losers.

The average American lost 16 days from work or other usual activity due to illness or injury in the year ended June 30, 1960.

Six of those days were spent in bed, the U.S. Public Health Service reports.

Geographically, the lowest number of lost days were reported in the north central states, the most in the South.

'PLAY VALUE'

Toys That Squeak Will Please Baby

NEW YORK (UPI)—What do you do after the announcement arrives proclaiming the delivery of a ..... pound ..... ounce, (boy) (girl) to the Jones'?

The answer in many cases is that you wonder what in the world to buy as a gift for the new arrival.

Toy manufacturers have provided a variety of choices, but the uninitiated still needs advice.

There is a relatively short list of items for the infant under six months. He is able to do very little but notice the world around him. After six months, he is likely to seize upon anything his little hands can clutch.

Toy industry advisers say that every toy — no matter for what age group — should have what the sociologists call "play value." It also should have a reason.

"Until a child is about six months old, he can't play, so toys for him are chosen on the basis of what amuses or comforts but does not require his participation," said an expert at a leading toy store.

He advised that whatever is bought for an infant should be bright and colorful, appealing to his sense of sight, which develops in the early months. Mobiles, once the exclusive product of the world of art, have been adapted to the crib, with flights of circling birds or the legendary cow jumping over the moon.

Floating toys are fine for the baby's bath and anything that makes a "nonsense noise" is greeted with gurgles of joy. This noisy group includes objects that squeak, squawk, honk, toot or beep.

Rattles were among the first toys devised for babies, and they remain at or near the top of the popularity list. One of the more recent rattle models contains three mouthpieces, each of which produces a "nonsense noise" when blown into. Suction rattles that anchor to high chairs have been found useful in keeping babies diverted while mothers ply them with food.

Stuffed toys are a delight to young children, but Teddy Bears are a bit advanced for the new-born. Light, soft stuffed animals are better for the tiniest babies. The Teddy Bear should not be presented until almost the first birthday.

YWCA Trimnastics Classes Are Open

Marin County YWCA has announced that there are still a few places left in the fall term trimnastics classes for late registrants.

The day class meets Tuesdays from 10:15 to 11:15 a.m. at 610 Cedarberry Lane in San Rafael. The evening class is held at San Rafael High School girls gym Thursdays from 8 to 9 p.m.

Pre-registration and a recent physical examination are required. Small fees are charged for these classes.

Range Top Dish

Curried chicken is a delightful rangetop main dish. The easy way to prepare it is to skillet-fry the cut-up bird in a small amount of butter or margarine and then make a cream sauce flavored with curry powder from the drippings. Serve with chutney.

Sink Attachment Allows Ice Water To Flow In Tap

Have you ever wished you could get a drink of really cold water right out of the faucet when you're thirsty instead of having to break out a tray of ice cubes?

A manufacturer has designed an automatic water cooler small enough to fit under the kitchen sink. It works on the same principle as your refrigerator and uses the same refrigerant as the cooling agent.

The cooler hooks into your cold water line and has its own push-down spigot, which can be placed beside the cold water faucet on the drainboard. It refrigerates your tap water to about 40 degrees and keeps it ready for you to draw off whenever your thirst needs quenching.

Marin Women

Country Of Origin May Be Required On Cuts Of Meat

Consumers would be able to tell whether federally-graded meat is of foreign origin under a proposed amendment to the official regulations governing meat grading activities of the Agricultural Marketing Service, the United States Dept. of Agriculture has announced.

The proposed amendment would:

Require imported meats to bear an approved mark identifying the country of origin, if the meat is to be Federally graded;

Require the applicant for grading service to notify the meat grader if the carcass or wholesale cuts offered for grading are of foreign origin;

Provide for denial or withdrawal of meat grading service from any applicant who knowingly fails to furnish the required information regarding imported meat.

If the amendment is put into effect, it would require immediate stamping of the country of origin on each wholesale cut of imported meat offered for grading.

After Dec. 31 it would be required that the stamping be done in such a manner that the name of the foreign country of origin would appear on most of the major retail cuts.

Marin B'nai B'rith Women Will Hear Home Economist

Included in Miss Shattuck's talk are ideas for round-the-clock entertaining from informal get-togethers to brunches, buffet suppers, dinners and receptions.

Throughout the program the emphasis will be on foods to serve, including do-aheads, with tips on how to use appliances to make home entertaining easier. Recipes for foods shown will be distributed.

Preceding the program, dessert and coffee will be served by the hostesses, Mesdames Abe Granish, Philip Landa and Joseph Dienstag.

Working Mothers, Beware—

Mother, if you're holding down a job and have young children at home, beware:

A study shows that children of working mothers are more likely to become accidentally poisoned by swallowing drugs, cosmetics, insecticides or other dangerous household chemicals. In over 460 cases, 80 per cent involved children of working mothers.

Other findings: Peak age of danger was 29 months. Boys were more often the victims than girls. Aspirin and other drugs were the poison agents in two-thirds of the cases. Peak danger hours were between 10 a.m. and noon, between 3 and 6 p.m. Danger areas were the kitchen, bedroom and the bathroom.

Today is Monday, Oct. 2, the 275th day of the year with 90 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1869, Hindu nationalist leader and reformer Mohandan Ghandi was born.

In 1882, railroad tycoon William Vanderbilt made headlines when newsmen asked him whether he operated his railroads for the public benefit. Replied Vanderbilt: "The public be damned!"

In 1919, President Woodrow Wilson suffered a stroke that completely paralyzed the left side of his body.

A thought for today: German philosopher Georg Hegel said: "We may affirm absolutely that nothing great in the world has been accomplished without passion."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Wasteful Signal Ruins Defense —Never Be Guilty Of Doing It

Sometimes I think that bridge players should be licensed. Anybody who signaled with the setting trick would lose his license for six months.

Opening lead — ♠ K

West opened the king of spades, for no good reason. A normal club or diamond lead would have been quite satisfactory, but the actual lead didn't have to be fatal.

East saw at a glance that his partner had led from the doubleton king, hoping to get a ruff. The idea pleased East so much that he signaled encouragement with the jack of spades.

West naturally led another spade, and East collected two tricks with the ace and ten. East then led his last spade, the three, and West ruffed with the ten of hearts to shut out dummy.

DISCARDS CLUB: South was not dismayed by this turn in events. He discarded a club from dummy when West ruffed with the ten of hearts.

Now there was no way for the defenders to stop South from ruffing his third club in dummy. South lost the first four tricks and the ace of trumps, making his contract.

Let's go back to the first trick. The opening lead tells East the entire distribution of the spade suit. If East sits still and minds his business he will get four spade tricks. Signaling with the jack of spades costs East a spade trick.

East should play the three of spades at the first trick. If West continues with another spade, East should win and lead a low trump. East gets in with a spade to lead out the ace and a third trump. South must lose four spades, one trump and one club.

DAILY QUESTION: As dealer, you hold:

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one club or pass. This is a borderline hand; bid it with a conservative partner, pass it with a flighty partner. If you use "weak" no-trumps, open this hand with 1 NT to show 12 to 14 points and balanced distribution.

Religious Program Preview Is Slated

"The Good Life," a weekly series of radio broadcasts, will be previewed for members of the Marin Ministers Assn. at their monthly breakfast meeting tomorrow, according to program chairman Wallace M. Hough, pastor of First Baptist Church of San Rafael.

The clergymen, with Hamilton Air Force Base chaplains as their hosts at the base Cabana Club, will have as a discussion subject "Pre-Marital Counseling." In conjunction with the topic Radio KTIM manager Hugh Turner will play a tape recording of "The Good Life," produced by the National Council of the Episcopal Church.

The program series examines the issues of the day as they affect Woman and the Family.

'Hatful Of Rain' 'Insight' Planned

A close look at the writing, acting, production and direction considerations involved in presenting "A Hatful of Rain" will be presented as "Insight: Backstage" at 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday at Sausalito's Gate Playhouse.

Production will open Oct. 12.

Actor-director Will Marchetti will demonstrate in "Insight: Backstage," coaching techniques he utilizes in his actors' workshop. "Hatful" director Tom Anderson will hold tryout readings. There is no admission charge.

United Crusade Agencies Lend Help To Marin Youth

(This is the third of four articles citing examples of services by United Crusade agencies in terms of need. Today's article describes the accent-on-youth program of the Marin YMCA through the experiences of two young men who have felt its influence.)

Seventeen-year-old Mike Cooney and Nat Johnson, 21, are proof of the pudding—the pudding in this case being the program conducted by the YMCA for the benefit of Marin's teen-agers.

Mike, a senior at Redwood High School, is one of hundreds of teen-age boys and girls who have felt the impact of the Y's vigorous youth program.

In the fall of 1958 he and nine other freshman boys at Redwood organized the Pharohs, a Hi-Y club. Their current membership includes these same ten plus one other added since their freshman days. Dr. Howard Burns of Kentfield has been their advisor since the group was formed.

The Pharohs are one of some sixty clubs (Hi-Y for boys, Tri-Y for girls) at Redwood, Tamalpais, Drake, San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools, with a total membership of more than six hundred. Each elects its own officers and formulates its own program, with the aid and encouragement of a volunteer advisor and the Y staff.

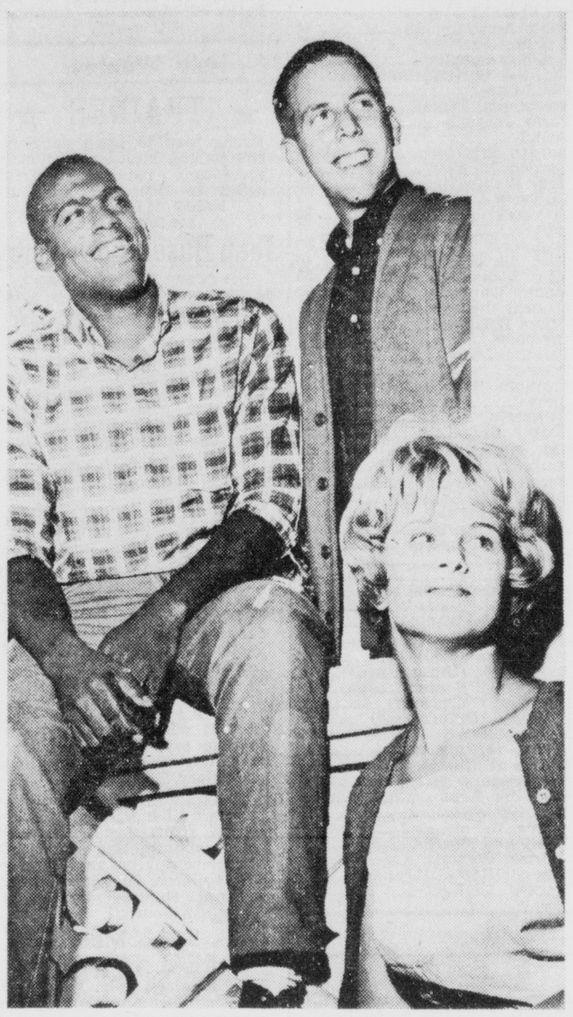
Clubs meet regularly in the homes of members to hear guest speakers, see films, and hold lively discussions on topics ranging from new cars to teen-age problems to career opportunities to the responsibilities of citizenship to religion. Membership in a single club may include representatives of the Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish faiths; all are encouraged to have respect for the faith of others while taking active parts in their own church or synagogue.

Beyond their own club activities, members may enter the broader field of inter-club events, area conferences, and the Y's youth-in-government program, where they meet high school students from many other places. There are parties, ski trips, basketball league games, and other social and recreational affairs planned and carried out by the Inter-Club Council.

Through these activities, the Y is a strong force in the lives of teen-agers. They are helped to grow and mature, to serve as leaders, to work together, to have concern for others.

"We wouldn't have missed our Y experience," says Mike.

Mike was a counselor last summer at Tolowa, the YMCA camp for boys in the Santa Cruz mountains. He and Nat, who served as counselor both at Tolowa and the Y day camp for five years in a row, agree that the experience was "terrific." They learned a lot, they say, chiefly understanding and patience.



Y'S PAIR — Not Johnson (left) and Mike Cooney are two of hundreds of Marin youths who have taken part in the YMCA teen-age program. Both were counselors at Y summer camps, where Nat's experiences made him decide to become a social worker instead of a professional musician. Representing the feminine part of the Y program is Crispin Tilden, College of Marin freshman, who was a member of the Y Teenettes at San Rafael High School for four years. (Ken Molino photo)

For Nat, a 1957 Tam graduate, counseling served to change his mind about becoming a professional musician (he plays eight instruments, belongs to a jazz combo, and sings besides) and decide to become a social worker.

"I like to help people, especially those mentally, emotionally, or physically handicapped," he says simply.

After a year at San Francisco State College as a music major, Nat is now enrolled at the College of Marin and working as a house parent at Sunny Hills. Next fall he plans to take his wife and two small children to Washington State to study for a degree in social work.

Last summer Nat was Sunny Hills recreation director, a job he obtained with the encouragement and recommendation of Lou Albrecht, executive secretary of the Marin Y.

About Mike and Nat, Albrecht says, "These are two of hundreds of young men and women who have been influenced by the YMCA program. They are examples of American youth who participate and develop through an agency program and in the process, learn how to give of themselves. The relationships that Mike and Nat have had with younger boys in the camp program and with their fellow students in the club program have positive values which will contribute greatly to the future of our society."

The local Y's accent-on-youth program is supported through sustaining memberships, fees, and the United Crusade. A little more than half of its budgeted income last year was contributed by the community through the United Crusade campaign.

A community branch of the San Francisco Young Men's Christian Association, the Marin Y operates from offices located in a former residence at 1009 Irwin Street, San Rafael. Its activities have increased steadily with the population growth of the county, with further expansion anticipated as the county continues to grow.

Off-Sale Liquor License Denied

The State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control has applied a new section of the law to deny an off-sale liquor license to Richard L. Less and Ronald J. Lager for 701 Bridgeway, Sausalito.

The department announced in Sacramento it denied the license under a law enacted by this year's legislature which prohibits issuance of a new liquor license within 200 feet of another license of the same kind, unless sufficient evidence of public demand can be presented.

The department also announced it has accepted payment of a fine in lieu of a license suspension ordered earlier for the Country Club Bowl at 88 Vivian Way, San Rafael, San Rafael Restaurant Corp., operator of the bar at the bowl, was permitted to pay $805 in lieu of a 10-day suspension, which had been ordered for sale to a minor and permitting a minor to drink on the premises on Sept. 7, 1960.

Narcotic Officers Meeting Tomorrow

Northern and Central California Narcotic Officers Assn. will hold a conference at Hamilton Air Force Base Officers Club tomorrow.

Marin Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety is on the panel of speakers who will discuss new laws pertaining to narcotic violations. Two other panelists are John McInerny, deputy attorney general, and Charles E. Casey, assistant to Director Richard McGee of the state Department of Corrections.

District attorneys, sheriffs, and chiefs of police from both Central and Northern California are expected to attend. Registration will start at 11 a.m.

Other items on the day's agenda include a tour of the air base flight line, election of association officers, and a surprise demonstration of how a dog can locate hidden marijuana.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Water Trouble Plagues Marin School District

Springs and sub-surface water at the site of the new San Jose Intermediate School will probably cost the taxpayers $7,375.

This was the amount of the low bid of O. C. Jones and Sons of Berkeley to do the sub-surface drainage and ditch work at the site. Bids were opened last week at the district office.

Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael, with a bid of $10,434, and Hilco Construction Co. of Sacramento, with a bid of $11,400, were the only other bidders.

The contract for the job probably will be awarded at the next regular meeting of the San Jose School Board next Monday.

Piombo Brothers of San Rafael, who did the original work on the site preparations, did not submit a bid.

Alfred Dalecio, estimator for Piombo Brothers, said that they could not handle the job now because they "know the problems and it might be tricky."

The site of the new school has been a source of trouble since work was started on it last year.

Piombo Brothers started work on the $35,536 contract in November. However, the job was delayed by rains and subsurface water when workmen tried to grade a drainage ditch along the north and west sides of the site.

By March, the project was bogged down to the extent that on the 23rd the board deleted the ditch from the contract, cutting down on it by $2,000.

The present contract, when awarded, is aimed at correcting this drainage problem. Reid, Rockwell, Banwell and Taricks, architects for the school, estimated the cost of this drainage correction work at $8,900.

Frank Jerome of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., reported the theft Thursday. He said the power pole and cross arm had been left lying near Sir Francis Drake Boulevard about seven-tenths of a mile north of Inverness. It weighed 1,600 pounds.

New Video Shows To Check In At Fast Rate During The Week

New television shows will be checking in at a fast and furious rate the next few days.

Some of the new series which will make their debut the first half of this week include:

Tonight: At 8:30, on KPIX, "Window on Main Street," starring Robert Young as a novelist who returns to his home town to write about the people he knows best; and at 10 o'clock on KGO, "Ben Casey," a dramatic series set in a big city hospital with Vincent Edwards and Sam Jaffe in the top roles.

Tomorrow: At 7 p.m., on KTVU, "World of Adventure," another of those travel-and-adventure shows which Channel 2 likes so well; at 8 on KPIX, "The Dick Van Dyke Show," a situation comedy starring that young comic with Carl Reiner as producer and writer; at 8:30 p.m., on KGO, "Calvin and the Colonel," a cartoon comedy series with Freeman Gosden and Charles Correll of "Amos 'n' Andy" fame providing the voices for the bear and the fox; and on KGO at 9, "The New Breed," still another police series starring Leslie Nielsen.

Wednesday: At 7 p.m., on KTVU, "Shannon," with George Nader in the title role as an insurance investigator; at 7:30 on KPIX, still another cartoon series, "The Alvin Show," this one about those singing chipmunks; at 8:30 o'clock on KQED, "Heritage: Walter Piston," first of four shows about the great American composer and music teacher; and at 9:30 p.m., on KPIX, "Mrs. G. Goes to College," a situation comedy starring Gertrude Berg and Sir Cedric Hardwicke.

ALSO NEW and starting tomorrow night on KTVU at 8:30 is a series of 30-minute concerts by Mantovani, "master of the tumbling strings," and his orchestra. Tomorrow night ice skating star Belita and singer Adele Leigh will join Mantovani in a program of musical moods ranging from the "Habanera" to "Skater's Waltz."

YOUR WORLD Series station will be KRON with that station carrying the first game of the 1961 baseball classic from Yankee Stadium Wednesday at 8:45 a.m., immediately preceded by a 15-miunte preview show over which Lindsey Nelson will preside.

But to brief yourself upon the two rival teams and to get into the series spirit, dial KGO tomorrow at 10:30 p.m. Mel Allen and other sprtscasters will interview players and managers plus baseball stars of the pasts in a "World Series Special."

DRAMA will be plentiful on TV the early part of this week. Tomorrow night at 9 o'clock on KRON Van Heflin will star as an army sergeant in "Ricochet," in the "Dick Powell Show."

On Wednesday a new series of "Play of the Week" shows will begin at 8 no KTVU with two plays by William Saroyan, "My Heart's in the Highlands" and "Once Around the Block." At 10 you can choose between the opening presentation of the new "Theater '62" series on KRON, the suspense drama, "The Spiral Staircase," or, on KPIX, the "U.S. Steel Hour" show, "Brandenburg Gate," set in the Berlin of the current crisis. "Theater '62" will offer eight one-hour dramatizations of David O. Selznick screen hits during the current season.

FOR THOSE interested in the problems of education, KQED will be offering two special shows. Tonight at 9:30, "The Influential Americans," a report on developments on a national plane. And on Wednesday at 9 p.m., "Schools Are Your Business," the start of a series on California education produced by KQED itself under a Junior League of San Francisco Inc. grant.

IN PERIL — Elizabeth Montgomery plays a young woman whose life is threatened by a psychopathic killer in "The Spiral Staircase," the first of eight "Theater '62" dramas to be presented this season. It will be seen Wednesday at 9 p.m. on KRON. And among the suspects in the suspense play, once a hit movie, are Gig Young (left), and Eddie Albert.

Speech Therapist Gets Scholarship

Jean A. Maraist, co-director of the Marin Speech Center, 702 D Street, San Rafael, has won the annual Coralie Kenfield Scholarship of the American Hearing Society, John L. Darby, executive secretary of the San Francisco chapter of the society, said today.

One of the few speech therapists in the Bay Area to enter private practice, Miss Maraist will enroll next spring in a course in lip reading at San Francisco State College.

For the first time since 1926 there are no public school adult classes in lip reading for the hard of hearing and deaf in San Francisco and there are no such classes in Oakland or Marin County.

Concern over the need for more teachers in the field caused Miss Maraist to apply for the scholarship she recently won, she said.

Ethnic Relations Course Starting

"Race and Ethnic Relations," a University of California Extension evening course, will begin tomorrow at College of Marin.

The series of 12 weekly meetings will be conducted in the library, room 2, beginning at 7 p.m.

Lecture and discussion topics will explore findings in anthropology and psychology and will utilize case studies of the treatment of Japanese in World War II, problems of desegregation in the South, treatment of minorities in South Africa, South America, Canada, and the United States. Enrollment will be accepted at the first meeting.

Veterans Meeting

Roy Partridge of Larkspur was sole Marin representative, from Marin Barracks 550, at a recent three-day convention of the Veterans of World War I in Dallas, Tex.

AN OPEN LETTER TO NORTH MARIN RESIDENTS

Dear Friends:

It is with a real sense of accomplishment and great pride that the Directors of the MARIN MEMORIAL GARDENS announce the opening of a beautiful memorial park, here, in Novato. The development plan of this 100 acre park has been expertly designed and carefully researched to provide the community with a cemetery of enduring beauty adequately planned for future needs.

The natural beauty of the gently sloping Marin Hills and the verdant valley have been preserved for the appreciation of all. This will provide a secluded quiet valley, a dedicated memorial where personal thoughts may find expression and where the casual visitor can enjoy its beauty.

The Garden Mausoleums are planned near the wide, paved, tree-lined drives in a manner that the natural beauty of this site will not be disturbed. The Directors of the MARIN MEMORIAL GARDENS are resolved to preserve, protect, and enhance this singularly unique setting.

This is an ENDOWED CARE MEMORIAL PARK. The Board of Directors include many Novato residents whose years of public service guarantee their sensitivity to the desires, needs, and trends of the community.

You will receive more information about this fine memorial park and we ask you to give this new addition to the community your serious consideration.

Sincerely yours,

Charles R. Johnson
